POLICE SAY M'COY NOW INSANE

SPECIAL GUARD SENT TO CELL OF EX-FIGHTER

Detective Captain Expresses Belief Former Pugilist Not "Acting," But "Cracking" Under Strain.

(Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist held on suspicion of murder in connection with the death last Tuesday night of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, became mentally unbalanced in his cell here today, according to a police announcement. Alienists yesterday declared McCoy sane.

Captain of Detectives Cline declared his belief that the former pugilist was not "acting" but was actually "off his head" and "cracking" under the strain.

A special guard was detailed to McCoy's cell to prevent him doing himself any injury.

Mumbling and pacing about his narrow quarters, the former fighter stopped every few minutes to paste bits of cardboard on the walls

When asked what he was doing, he answered "I'm making a trap for that rat Mors"

When informed of McCoy's peculiar actions, District Attorney Asa Keyes said the three mental experts who yesterday asserted the prisoner was sound, would be sent back to the jail immediately to further observe him.

Thirty witnesses were subpoenaed to testify today before the county grand jury in its investigation of the shooting of Mrs Mors and the subsequent wounding of three other persons and near the Mors antique shop, a circle of events which resulted in the arrest of the former pugilist.

Albert Mors Called.

Among them was Albert Mors, former husband of the dead woman and until their recent divorce, her partner in the antique business. Mrs Iva Martin, occupant of the apartment below that in which the shooting occurred, who insists she saw Mors leaving the building immediately after the fatal shot was fired, several detectives who insist she must have been mistaken, William G Ross, who was wounded in an attempt to escape from the Mors antique shop after Kid McCoy entered it Wednesday morning, and Mr and Mrs Sam Schaupp, the other two victims of the shopping district shooting affray, who say McCoy sought them out because they encouraged a reconciliation between Mr and Mrs Mors

Out of the testimony of these and other witnesses, District Attorney Asa Keyes confidently predicts he will develope an indictment charging McCoy with the murder of Mrs Mors McCoy's sister, Mrs Jennie Thomas, has already told the grand jury of an alleged confession made by her brother while the body of Mrs Mors was yet warm.

McCoy says that Mrs Mors killed herself in his presence in the apartment they had been occupying as "Mr and Mrs. N. Shields," for about a month, but the version on which the district attorney expects the grand jury to base its indictment is that the former idol of the prize ring killed the wealthy divorcee in a drunken rage when she told him she would not marry him

APPROPRIATE OVER MILLION AND HALF

Council to Use Largest Amount In History of City For Running Expenses.

The appropriation ordinance passed Monday afternoon by the city council for the year ending August 31, 1925 raises $1,543,240 the largest amount ever apropriated for running the city's affairs This makes the third appropriation of more than a million dollars which has been made the other two being in 1922 and 1923 In 1922 the amount was $1,332,310, and in 1923 $1,436,983, but $106,257 less than that for 1924-25

Under the city statutes the council cannot make provision for raising more than 90 per cent of $500,000, or $450,000 upon which warrants may be drawn The park fund, sinking and judgment funds and a number of others are excluded, however and this permits the appropriation of more than the $450,000

TWO ALIENISTS SAY M'COY SANE

State's Physicians Make Verbal Report and Third Withholds Statement.

LOS ANGELES Aug 2 Kid McCoy former pugilist in jail here charged with suspicion of the murder of Theresa Mors wealthy antique dealer, is entirely sane according to a verbal report of two alienists of District Attorney Keyes late Monday.

The verbal report was made to the district attorney by Dr Paul Bowers and Dr Louis Weber two of the three alienists engaged in the case Dr. Victor Parkin, the third, declined to make a statement to the authorities, but announced he would file a written report of his findings soon.

Dr Bowers announced McCoy was "suave diplomatic and co-operative in the tests adding that the accused pugilist did very well for a man whose education had been neglected"

The alienist said he based his announcement on facts ascertained after a careful examination of McCoy's family history and personal re-actions

General Pershing In Lincoln For Brief Visit; Makes No Comment On National Political Issues

General John J Pershing reached Lincoln Tuesday morning He is on a tour of inspection of training camps and national guard camps through the middle west He will be at the home of Mrs D M Butler, his sister, until Thursday, and will then complete a swing as far west as Wyoming, returning to Lincoln in about a week

Speech is not natural to the general. He doesn't go about the country talking He said so himself when an interviewer saw him Tuesday morning He was dressed in a quiet gray business suit and looked in excellent health

Opinions were rare from his lips He spoke positively once and then on a subject of very minor importance—the so-called "death beam"

The Dawes plan and any effect it might have, either upon the country or this section, were outside of the general's province, he averred He refused to discuss the plan at all

Mention of defense day brought no remarks from the commander-in-chief of the American armies Governor Bryan's stand on the question had evidently made him silent in the home town of both of them

But recently returned from abroad, General Pershing is not in touch with the political situation, and had paid no attention to developments in Nebraska

"The democrats say La Follette will get the republican votes and the republicans say he will get the democratic votes," was his summary of the situation in the east

"We seem to have struck Lincoln right in the middle of a hot spell," he commented when he learned it had been cool for some time in his home town

"It seems good to be back home," he said freely

The winning of distinguished college designation by the University of Nebraska R O T C unit was news to General Pershing

GENERAL PERSHING

'Well, well he exclaimed,' getting back where they used to be They used to rank in everything, you know"

He had been invited to the American Legion state convention in Grand Island, But thought it unlikely that he would be able to arrange his schedule already fixed for some time, so as to include it

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 19.—Rain threatens to dampen the notification ceremonies here tonight for Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential nominee.

Evanston was drenched by an early morning thunderstorm which resolved itself into a slow drizzle that kept decorations soaked and caused worried looks on the faces of those in charge of the notification ceremonies.

Expert information was sought from the Chicago weather bureau and word came back that a temporary let up in the storm was in sight late in the day.

General Dawes and the committee in charge declared, however, that the ceremonies would be held "rain or shine" and preparations were made to spread a canopy over the speaker's stand in event of rain.

EVANSTON, Ill, Aug 19 — Charles G Dawes, once currency comptroller, once the A E F's chief purchasing agent, once federal budget director and head of the reparations commission's experts committee, waited at his home here today for the coming of republican leaders to add formally another title to his name—that of republican vice presidential nominee.

The party chieftains gathered by the hundreds, and even by the thousands, in Chicago and tonight they will march on this quiet little city on the shore of Lake Michigan to notify Mr Dawes in a formal manner of his selection.

The notification will take place at ceremonies to be held on the lawn of the Dawes home, starting at 8 o'clock, central daylight saving time. The exercises are to be preceded by

RIVER OF MUD IN CALIFORNIA

Boulders and Ashes Carried On Huge Stream Flowing From Mount Shasta.

(Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Aug 19 —A veritable river of mud, boulders and ashes, extending in width from a few hundred yards to half a mile and in some places from fifteen to twenty feet deep is flowing from the mouth of Mud Creek canyon, eight miles above McCloud, Siskiyou county, on the slope of Mount Shasta, into the McCloud River, says a dispatch to the Sacramento Bee

Boulders, some of them many tons in weight, are being carried toward the river in the thick stream, the like of which never has been seen before in the McCloud section and whose origin is a mystery, the dispatch says

Old residents, students of Mount Shasta's formation, 'blame" the phenomenon on a glacier, the only one of the McCloud slope of Mount Shasta, which is situated near the peak of an extinct volcano and which has been exposed to the sun because of the dearth of snow

They are convinced that a portion of the glacier has broken loose, slipped down the slope of the mountain and now is melting rapidly

Sweeping past McCloud at a point three miles distant the irresistible mass broke the pipes of McCloud's water supply and for two days the inhabitants were forced to depend upon railroad tank cars for their drinking water, the Bee advises

Makes Vigorous Plea For Principles and Policies of National Platform of the Democratic Party---Apprised of His Selection by Senator Pat Harrison---W. J. Bryan Makes Short Speech.

Before a crowd of 18,000 to 20,000 people gathered in the University of Nebraska stadium, Monday evening, Governor Charles W. Bryan received his commission as the candidate of the democratic party for vice president and accepted his new position as one of its national leaders and standard bearers.

He was officially apprised of his nomination by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the committee on notification, in a half hour's speech reviewing the progressive record of the democratic party and the things accomplished by it during the administration of Woodrow Wilson, and since.

Governor Bryan's response was a vigorous plea for the principles and policies set forth in the democratic national platform, with special emphasis on tariff reduction, measures to aid agriculture, the outlawing of war, defense of labor's rights, and equalization of taxes so that the very rich shall be required to pay in proportion to their wealth.

The full speech of Governor appears on page 2, of this issue, and a summary of Senator Harrison's address will be found on page 6.

Weather God Smiles.

Notwithstanding a prediction by the weather bureau for local thunder showers, no rain fell and everything passed off without interference from the elements The warm August evening was just right for a big meeting held in the open air

Perfect conditions prevailed for the operation of the radio microphones and "loud speakers," which magnified the vocal tones of those taking part in the program and threw them out where everybody in the huge audience, some a block distant from the central pavilion, could easily hear every word The apparatus installed by the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co had been thoroughly tested out beforehand, and it worked with 100 per cent efficiency.

There was practically no "static" to spoil the transmission of sound waves through the atmosphere for receiving stations all over the country to catch

About 400 men and women from Omaha, arriving by special train shortly before 8 o'clock, marched to the stadium behind the Ak-Sar-Ben band of that city and were given one of the main sections of seats nearest to the speakers

A feature of the exercises which pleased the crowd immensely was the absence of attempted speechmaking by those who preceded the orators of the evening National Committeeman Arthur Mullen of Omaha presented National Chairman Shaver, with a brief introduction, and Mr Shaver, in turn, gave way to Mrs Emily Newell Blair, national vice chairman, with only a single prefatory sentence Mrs Blair followed the example by waiving no words when she introduced Senator Harrsonl, Governor Bryan, and W J Bryan

Crowd Comes Early

Memorial stadium filled early, and by 7 o'clock half of the audience had taken its place in the big concrete stands At 7:30 the Elks band, dressed in purple and led by a bandmaster with a tall bobbing busbar cap came onto the field, executed a smart right turn and began to play "The Stars and Stripes Forever" All bands showed a partiality for Sousa pieces, which pleased the crowd immensely.

Soon after the Nebraska State band entered, took its position on the Party Free From Obligations That Would Prevent It Being Used To Restore Confidence In Government, Says Vice Presidential Nominee In Acceptance Address.

The following is the text of the address delivered last night by Governor Charles W Bryan at the University stadium, accepting the nomination as the vice presidential candidate of the democratic party

"Senator Harrison members of the notification committee and fellow citizens:

"The generous statement of your chairman in presenting your message, and in placing before this audience and into the ears of unseen millions throughout the land his encouragement and cheer to those who believe in a government by the people, is sincerely appreciated

"I would be wholly lacking in the impulses of humanity if I failed to appreciate the very great honor the democratic party has conferred upon me in nominating me for vice president of the United States I would be derelict in my obligations to the democratic party and to the nation as well if I failed to recognize the responsibilities accompanying that honor.

Pleased Notification In Lincoln

"The desire on the part of the citizens of Lincoln that this notification take place here was very gratifying to me. I have made my home here for thirty years. I have come to know these people as only few could know them. It is here and from here that I have taken part in the business life, social life and the political life of the city and state. I am indebted to the people of Lincoln and of the state of Nebraska for whatever success I may have achieved

"My connection for more than twenty years with the publication in Lincoln of The Commoner, a national magazine devoted to the defense and welfare of the common people in their inalienable rights, gave me an opportunity to try to apply the principles of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none' to the political problems that are constantly confronting the people of every city and of every state. My connection with the problems of government, city and state in which the people of Lincoln and the state of Nebraska, regardless of party affiliation or station in life, have co-operated and supported me are largely responsible for the high honor that this occasion confers.

Will Support Leader.

"As a business man who has been endeavoring to apply business principles to government and not as an experienced platform speaker I will give our national leader all the support my ability will permit.

"By the selection of one from the heart of the great middle west as its candidate for the vice presidency, the democratic party recognizes the importance of agriculture as one of the basic industries of the nation, and we have the assurance that our party is in direct sympathy with the needs and advancement of the farmers of the country.

People's Interests First.

"No man should accept nor should a great political party tender the nomination to a candidate without a full realization on both sides that such a selection imposes on the one chosen a firm obligation to the whole people to stand true to the ideals of America The ambitions of the individual are of no consequence and must not stand in the way of the preservation and success of a democratic form of government which can only be secured and maintained by guarding the happiness, prosperity and contentment of the people residing in all sections of the country.

"This nation is composed of divers peoples and activites The success of a nation requires that the desires and interests of each shall be subject to the needs and rights of all. Individuals, groups, factions and organizations, whether they be persons parties, creeds or race economic or otherwise, must be so restrained to the extent that the equal rights of others shall not be impaired.

"Time, nor the occasion, will permit a review of all the issues treated in the platform of our party but I will analyze some of them in the plain direct manner to which the people of the agricultural states are accustomed.

A Progressive Platform.

"The representatives of the people, the good men and women who served as delegates at the recent national democratic convention, did their work well. The platform which they adopted upholds the ideals of America, demands a return to the honesty in government of our forefathers, and outlines the legislative and administrative policies necessary to restore equality in government It is the most progressive platform covering the tried and practical measures for the economy, freedom and prosperity of the people that has ever been promulgated by a national political convention

"That great democratic convention, so recently held in Madison Square Garden, is a striking illustration of the soundness of heart and sanesness of mind of the American people.

"Though at times, torn by passions and prejudices, that great convention refused to be cajoled into cowardice or deadlocked into desperation, but tenaciously held to its purpose until out of the dying embers of controversy the spirit of unity rose and reason triumphed in the nomination of that able lawyer that trained diplomat, that experienced statesman, that champion of the rights of humanity that progressive democrat, John W Davis

Honesty Is Essential.

"Honesty, efficiency and economy in governmental affairs, municipal, state and national, is the need of the hour. There must be honesty in the heart, honesty in the mind, honesty in business and honesty in official life if the ideals of the republic are to be maintained Efficiency and economy in business and government can only be achieved by integrity in thought and in action.

"The great masses of the people today are calling for progressive leadership. The unrest throughout the country is caused by inertia on the part of public officials, mounting numbers of government employees, duplications and overlapping in governmental agencies, useless board and commissions, the resultant high cost of government and excessive taxation, and the failure of the government to function for the protection and welfare of the weaker members of society.

"The buying of immunities, the issuing of permits, the hoisting of tariff schedules and the granting of government oil leases in return for campaign contributions, must be uprooted and destroyed forever if this government is to endure. Men must be selected for public positions on account of their honesty and ability, and not on account of their wealth, their social qualities or their political strategy.

Woman's Worth and Equality.

"Our platform takes special notice of woman's entrance into the arena of politics. Woman's rightful place is by the side of man. Their blood is mingled in their off-spring and they are united as no other can be in guarding the home, the unit of society, the nursery of youth. Everything that is good and wholesome will be benefitted by woman's council. Every righteous cause will triumph the sooner because of her political activity She will not only be the vigilant defender of health, education and spiritual life but as treasurer of the household, she will powerfully assist in the introduction of economies in government The democratic party has no principles, policies or plans that it cannot submit to her judgment and her sense of justice. She has been enfranchised and her request that she be recognized on an equality with man in employment, compensation and jury service is reasonable and equitable

Child Welfare.

"The welfare, education and protection of child life, and the care of mothers are of first importance and should be given every consideration that law and administration can offer

"Our party testifies to its interest in the child labor amendment to the constitution by pointing out that it could not have been submitted without democratic votes. Since the adoption of the democratic platform, Arkansas, a democratic state, has the honor to be the first state to ratify the child labor amendment.

Support of Labor.

"All legislation for the benefit of the wage earners rests on the first sentence of our platform's labor plank, "labor is not a commodity. It is human." Therefore it must be dealt with humanly. Lincoln echoed the sentiments of Jefferson when he declared that in case of conflict between the two the man must come before the dollar. That is a fundamental difference between the attitude of republican leaders and the attitude of democratic leaders on this subject. The 'captains of industry' have their place and should be protected in their rights but those whom they employ and whose labor they direct have rights as sacred and these rights are as essential as their employers' to industrial welfare and our political progress. Equality of political rights implies, and should be accompanied by, equality of opportunity.

"The democratic party was the first large party to declare for a secretary of labor, and the democratic administration of Woodrow Wilson was the first to have a representative of labor at the president's council table. The democratic party has led in protecting the wage earners' rights to organize and to bargain collectively. It has been labor's champion in securing the 8-hour day and in obtaining for him protection from government by injunction. Labor is entitled to a living wage at American standards with a margin for old age. The refusal of the present republican administration to permit the railway mail employes to receive a living wage at American standards was unfair and unjust to labor and illustrates the fact that their economy program at the expense of labor, Economy at the expense of humanity is further illustrated in the veto of the pension bill and of the soldiers' adjusted compensation measure.

"Our party has always been the laboring man's freind, not to secure his vote, but because the nation cannot progress unless he progresses. It cannot ignore his inalienable rights without jeopardizing the rights of all.

Outlawing of War.

"The democratic party pledges all its energies to the outlawing of the whole war system. The statement could not be stronger and it expresses the sentiment of a large majority of the American people. The only hope of the world is found in the substitution of machinery for peace in the place of machinery for war.

"War propaganda, mobilization demonstrations of the civil and industrial resources of the country when we are at peace with the world, unnecessarily inflame the mind of the American youth, are a great economic waste, mislead the people of other lands as to the peaceful and friendly intention of the United States government and should be discouraged by all friends of world peace.

"Our party will endeavor to secure world disarmament by international agreement—it is a condition precedent to peace. It will also strive for an international agreement providing for a referendum on war except in case of actual or threatened invasion. This may require time but it is worth working for and worth waiting for The reason given in the democratic platform for a referendum on war will commend itself to the conscience of the world: upon it is the sentiment that will some day make this a warless world Until international agreements can be made to maintain the peace of the world, an adequate army and navy for our national safety must be maintained.

Needs of Agriculture.

"All political parties give much attention to the needs of agriculture, especially during political campaigns. The attitude of the two major political parties towards agriculture, its importance, its conditions and its needs, is clearly indicated by their records in congress and their positions as set forth in their respective platforms Four years ago, at the time the republican administration came into power, the farmers and stock raisers were receiving good prices for their produce. There was a market at fair prices for land The farmers were among the first to feel the effects of legislation and administrative action which changed the conditions of the farmers from prosperity to adversity, and caused the farmer's bank balance to disappear and mortgages on his farm to take its place The republican policy of reducing the higher schedules of the surtax on incomes and removing the tax from the profiteer, and, through this means shifting the taxes from those who were best able to pay to those who were already over-burdened, had its direct and injurious effect on the farmers. The adoption by the republican party of the prohibitive tariff compelled the American farmer to purchase what he used and wore in an artificial and highly protected market, and the same high tariff rates reduced the buying ability of the farmer's customers abroad for his surplus grain and meat.

The deflation policy of the republican administration, advocated in its national platform of 1920 and endorsed in the speech of acceptance of its candidate for the presidency, resulted in withdrawing bank loans and discounts of five billions of dollars, contracted our currency by a billion and a half dollars, cut the prices of the farmer's grain and live stock in half, destroyed the market value of his lands, threw thousands of farmers into bankruptcy and spread industrial depression and unemployment throughout the country.

"The relief plan provided by the republicans which increased the import duty on wheat, although the farmers were exporters of grain, has added to the farmer's knowledge of the workings of protective tariff. Pretended relief measures provided by the republican administration for loaning the farmer money at high interest rates with a commission paid to middle men for making the loans, has encouraged the farmer to go still deeper into debt and has made his final downfall more certain in the end.

"The democratic party has proven itself to be the friend of the farmer in the past, and the platform adopted in the recent national democratic convention provides for the most complete and practical relief for the farmer that any political party or organization has ever conceived. The farmer needs the high tariff rates reduced so as to enable him to buy in a competitive market at home and remove the restrictions which have injuriously affected the foreign market in which he sells his surplus products. He needs the support of the federal reserve system as it was intended by the democratic party, which framed the bill, and he needs relief from the deflation policy of the republican party which is largely responsible for the farmer's distress The farmer needs lower railroad and water rates which will benefit both the buyer and seller, national and international. He needs the development of a deep water way system from the Great Lakes to the ocean and to the Gulf, and he needs the development of our water powers to supply cheaper fertilizer on the farm and to supply power, light and fuel for his service in his home. He needs better and more uniform warehouse laws He needs legislation, state and national, that will enable the farmers to develope cooperative marketing facilities which will increase the price that he receives and reduce the price that the ultimate consumer pays. The farmer needs an export marketing corporation, or commission, so that his small surplus product, which is sold in the markets abroad, will not establish the price of the whole crop that he produces. The farmer was defeated by the republican conferees one hour before adjournment of the last session of congress, and he needs the reclamation of the arid and semi-arid lands of the west The farmer needs a democratic administration and a congress that will not permit a Mellon tax plan to relieve multi-millionaires from paying their just share of the cost of government These are some of the measures of relief, advancement and encouragement that are outlined in the democratic platform. These measures will not be unfair to any other industry or interest.

"The farmers throughout the country who produce the wealth from the soil, who produce the food stuffs upon which the people of the United States subsist and who make it possible for millions to survive in other parts of the world are not asking for special privileges They are not demanding class legislation: they are not attempting to get hold of the government and use it to the disadvantage of other people. The farmers are demanding, however, and they have a right to demand that the legislation which discriminates against them should be repealed; that the administrative measures that have injuriously effected them should be withdrawn and that agriculture, the basic industry of the nation, be placed on an equality with other interests that have grown and developed in this country. It is not more opportunities to borrow mney that the farmer needs. It is legislative and administrative remedies that will reduce artificial prices of what he has to buy, remove the restrictions in the markets in which he has to sell his products, and increase his ability to pay the money he has already been compelled to borrow and will give him a price for his grain and live stock that will cover the cost of production, enable him to clothe, feed and educate his family and again take his place as a free and independent citizen

Water Power.

"The democratic platform favors the development of our water power If the water power of Muscle Shoals and in the mountain streams and in the rivers throughout the land were developed it would supply the power to operate all of our factories, all of our industries and all of our means of transportation. It would enable the raw materials of the country to be manufactured where they are produced, thus saving the cost of transportation of the raw product to the factory and the finished product back to the consumer. It would enable industries to spring up where needed, most to create business and to supply human needs If the water power of the nation were developed it would furnish electric current to light and heat the homes of the cities and on the farms and supply electric power to operate all the machinery necessary for the needs of the farms and for the convenience and comfort of the homes, both city and rural, at a small fraction of the present cost.

GOV. C. W. BRYAN.

The democratic platform favors the strict public control of and conservation of all the nation's natural resources, including coal, iron, oil and timber. The democratic party believes that the nation should retain title to its water power sites and favors the expeditious creation and development of our water power for the use of our citizens. If the water power sites of the country were allowed to pass into the hands of great combinations of capital the people would pass under a yoke of servitude more galling, if possible, than any foreign landlord system. The platform favors the recovery of the navy's oil reserves, and all other parts of the public domain, which have been fraudulently or illegally leased or otherwise transferred to private interests.

Law Enforcement.

"The democratic party is the friend of orderly government It believes with Jefferson—that acquiescence in the will of the people is the first principle of republics. Laws should be obeyed by all regardless of whether this or that individual may like or dislike them It is the doctrine of anarchy, not the doctrine of America, that laws are to be obeyed only by those who approve them.

"The democratic platform declares that "The republican administration has failed to enforce the prohibition laws; is guilty of trafficking in liquor permits and has become the protector of violators of this law;' The democratic party through its platform pledges itself to respect and enforce the constitution and all laws.

"The democratic platform has again reiterated its attitude towards a private monopoly when it says that A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable.' The failure of the republican administration to enforce the law against conspiracies in restraint of trade and illegal combinations of business which stifle competition, has unnecessarily, unfairly and dishonestly increased the cost of living and permitted the profiteer to ply his trade without let or hindrance. Those engaged in agriculture, the middle classes and the wage earners, have been placed at such a disadvantage that their situation requires action The political unrest and discontent throughout the country are a protest against the inaction of those in public office.

The failure of the national republican administration to enforce the law against private monopoly caused some of the states and state officials, in the middle west, to enter the field of commerce for the purpose of establishing competition to protect the public from the unconscionable profiteer. In this way millions of dollars a year have been saved to the people in their coal, gasoline and oil bills.

"Municipal and state governments should not, in my opinion, engage in competition with legitimate private business, but when private monopoly defies the legally constituted authorities, or when government officials become corrupt and the federal government fails to function for the protection and welfare of the masses, it becomes necessary for the state and municipal governments to use all the means at their command to prevent impositions upon the public, or the result in the community and state will be I. W. Ws, bolsheviks and anarchists.

"I have reviewed only a few of the provisions of the democratic platform but will discuss others at a later date.

"I have called attention, at this time, to a few of the outstanding issues which are uppermost in the minds of the people of the great agricultural states, viz:—woman's worth and equality, child welfare the democratic party's interest in and support of labor, the needs of the agriculturist, water power development, law enforcement and the outlawing of war.

"The democratic party's position on these questions is in keeping with the progressive thought of the times.

"The measures approved in our platform are remedies for the relief suggested by the various groups of interested parties who have made a study of their respective needs. The democratic candidates are in harmony with the platform upon which they have been nominated, and upon which they will go forth in this campaign.

"The democratic platform is broad enough, strong enough and progressive enough to satisfy those who believe in that great democratic principle of equality before the law.

"The democratic party presents a program of progressive policies for which the party stands as a unit, without the intervention of faction or section

"The democratic party enters the campaign with a spirit of harmony and a unity of purpose rarely found in a presidential contest.

"The democratic party places more progressive measures for the benefit and protection of the common people, in the constitution and in the statutes during the eight years of the administration of that great statesman and patriot, Woodrow Wilson, than ever were enacted by any other party during any twenty-five years of the nation's history

"The democratic party during the world war demonstrated its ability to co-ordinate, its ability to govern, its integrity as a party and its desire to lead the nations of the world into an honorable and enduring peace Notwithstanding the billions of dollars handled during the world war when the stress of the times required immediate decisions and the negotiation of large contracts without time for investigation, or deliberation, no betrayal of a trust, no trace of graft, and no scandal or dishonesty was brought to the door of any democrat in official life. This is a record that cannot be duplicated in American history and it should be an assurance to every citizen, to every industry, to every business and to every organization or interest that the democratic party is the instrument at this time, to carry into effect a government of, by, and for the people.

"It is unthinkable that the great host of progressive farmers and wage earners, both organized and unorganized, whom I know from active association and co-operation in service for many years, having this great party organization presented now as a fit instrument through which to work their will, should permit a division of strength and make possible the triumph of the forces of reaction and selfish interest.

"In accepting the nomination you tender me, I feel it is but due you to say that I am conscious of no obligation to any interest or any individual that would embarrass me in the discharge of the duties of this office.

"I feel that the democratic party is equally free from obligation to either individuals of interests that would prevent it from being used to restore confidence in government and economic justice in the nation.

"I therefore accept the nomination, Senator Harrison, with my solemn pledge that every ability I can exercise, and every effort I make, shall be with an eye single to the material, moral, and spiritual welfare of my country and my countrymen."

CEREMONY FOR BRYAN HELD AT UNI. STADIUM

field and played a selection. The Wilber, Neb., band, already on the field, followed with more music

At 7:25 the east stand began to fill, the west stand, holding 12,500, having been already filled to capacity.

The speaker's stand, in the center of the turf athletic field was decorated with much bunting. Electric arc lights cast a bluish-white glare on the stand. Electricians were still fussing with the "public address" amplifying system and with the microphones leading to radio stations in Lincoln, Hastings and Chicago which were radiocasting the proceeding to the world. The amplifier horns were situated 25 feet above the speakers' platform and threw the speakers' voices in all directions

Radio Announcing Begins.

The radio announcer, Lloyd C. Thomas, secretary of the Hastings Chamber of commerce, went to the speaker's platform and addressed a short talk "to the radio fans of America," inviting them to listen in on the ceremony. The bands then radiocasted a few numbers. A delegation of 250 members of Ak-Sar-Ben from Omaha then filled a section reserved for them.

By this time dusk had settled over the stadium, the shadows being particularly deep within the big bowl An American flag, made of colored electric lights and installed by the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light Co. was lighted at the end of the field and flags flaring from the tall columns at each end of the concrete stands were illuminated

After an announcement over the radio and a preliminary test of the amplifying apparatus, the announcer called upon the audience to sing "The Star Spangled Banner," assisted by all three bands.

The people in the stands sang lustily, the chorus echoing back and forth across the concrete stadium.

At 7:55 Governor Bryan's party arrived. The governor and Mrs Bryan had driven to the stadium with State Sheriff Tom Carroll. Arthur Mullen of Omaha, democratic national committeeman for Nebraska, Clem L. Shaver of West Virginia, democratic national committeeman, and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi were also in the car.

Skull Cap Cheered.

When the governor's party ascended the stand the crowd cheered, whistled and clapped William Jennings Bryan, in taking his seat, came to the front of the stand, and looking at the stand gave the famous Bryan smile. The crowd cheered. Mr. Bryan modestly determined to play a minor role, did not rise to acknowledge the greeting

Governor Bryan then put on his black skull cap, which he had tucked away in an inside pocket before leaving the mansion The crowd cheered and whistled at this action and the governor smiled.

At 8 o'clock, just before the ceremonies began, the photographers began slapping pictures, using the flashlights generously. This continued all through the program, the "pouf" of the flashlights punctuating the speakers remarks

After an announcement by the radio announcer who estimated his unseen audience "at not less than 10,000,000 people," Arthur Mullen, national committeeman, arose. The program had started only 2 or 3 minutes late.

Shaver Is Introduced.

Clem L Shaver was introduced by Mr. Mullen in a few words Mr. Shaver rose and announced that Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the democratic national committee, would preside and introduce the speakers.

Mrs. Blair asked that the audience again sing "The Star Spangled Banner." Then Dr. A A Brooks, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, pronounced the invocation.

At 8:07, Senator Pat Harrison was introduced and the speaking program began.

Addresses Well Received.

Lincoln audiences have never been noted for excessive enthusiasm at political meetings, and this was no exception to the rule But there were frequent outbursts of handclaps and cheers as the speakers drove home telling points The entire program was concluded at 9:25

Among those occupying seats on the speakers' platform were E G. White of Clarksburg, W. Va., who came as the personal representative of John W. Davis; national committeeman, Clyde L. Herring of Iowa, Governor Jonathan Davis of Kansas, ex-Governor and ex-Congressman J Y. Sanders of Louisiana, Chairman T. S. Allen of the Nebraska state committee, and Chairman C. A. Lord of the local committee on arrangements

Senator Harrison, as a prelude to his set speech, voiced the appreciation of himself and the other visiting democrats for the courtesies they had received while in Lincoln. He mentioned the nonpartisanship shown by the people of this city in preparing for the notification event.

"That reminds me of my own state of Mississippi," said the senatr. "We also do things in a nonpartisan way down there We are so nonpartisan that we took your former republican governor of Nebraska, Hon. George L. Sheldon and made him the nominee of the democratic party, and elected him to the legislature."

The name of John W Davis was cheered when Harrison spoke of democracy's new national leader There was even more applause when he alluded to Woodrow Wilson.

Governor Bryan, in his acceptance speech, likewise paid tribute to Wilson and Davis, and each time his words brought an answering salvo of cheers and handclapping

One of Governor Bryan's utterances which found particular favor with the crowd was his declaration that "the system of conferring special favors of government, in the form of tariffs, oil leases and other special privileges and benefits, in return for campaign contributions, must be uprooted."

Hear "Brother Bill."

Shouts of "Brother Bill," "we want Billy Bryan," and "come on, W. J." finally brought William Jennings Bryan to the speaker's stand. He was reluctant to speak, apparently feeling that this was his brother's party.

"I could not deny myself the pleasure of attending a notification ceremony in Lincoln," he began "I have become so accustomed to attending them." This drew laughter and applause.

"I feel grateful to the democratic party for having done so great an honor to a member of my family.

"I shall return to Nebraska during the campaign and give myself the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with the people of this great state whom I have learned to love during more than a third of a century among them. I have a message to the democrats of the northwest among whom I have lived and whose thoughts I know.

"I want them to realize that the world never needed the leadership of the United States more than today, and that this nation never needed the leadership of the democratic party more than now.

Says Platform Best Ever.

"The democratic party never deserved more than today the confidence of the people. The records of its congressman and senators has never been better than it is now. The platform adopted at New York is the most progressive platform ever adopted by a political party

"I am convinced that the party never had two standard bearers more worthy of the trust of the masses of the nation than in this campaign.

"And now that I have told you what I want to do, I shall not trespass longer upon your time or the proprieties of the occasion," he declared. Shouts from the audience, which had remained in the stands cheering for the elder Bryan, demanded that he continue.

"I was never more interested in politics than I am today," Mr. Bryan went on, "and I was never more anxious for the success of the democratic party.

Then, as a tribute to his brother, the Commoner concluded:

"No brother was ever more happy in a brother to succeed him in politics than I am."

Then, amid vociferous cheers, he retired to the back of the platform.

BROOKINGS, S. D.—Mrs. A. M. Baker, wife of a farmer living near Bruce, who was arrested by county authorities Saturday after her husband had been bound to his bed and mutilated Friday night, was held in the Brookings county jail without any definite charges against her.

FIND LOST BUST OF WASHINGTON

Obscure Marble Cutter's Establishment Yields Famous Piece of Sculpture.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug 19 - The marble bust of George Washington presented to the United States by France and thought to have been destroyed in the fire which razed the congressional library in December 1851, has been found after more than seventy years

Mitchell Kennerley, art collector, announced Monday he had found the historic relic in an obscure marble cutter's establishment in Manhattan and disposed of it to Henry E. Huntington of New York and San Gabriel, Cal.

Daniel C French, Paul Bartlett and Joe Davidson, American sculptors, have pronounced the work that of Pierre Jean David, commonly called David D. Angers, famous French sculptor, from whom the French government originally purchased it for presentation to this government Still other evidences, such as comparison of the bust to descriptions and demensions noted by D'Anger's biographer, testify to the authenticity of the find.

The bust, about three inches in height, was presented to the United States early in the last century and reposed in the congressional library until the fire of 1851.

UNKNOWN DISEASE TAKES MANY HOGS

Adams County Agent Believes Loss Is Partly Due to Feeding of Oats.

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 19.—Increasing loss of swine from a disease which has not been definitely identified is reported from the western part of Adams county.. County Agent Davis says his investigation so far indicates that the loss is at least partly due to the feeding of oats instead of high priced corn.

Former Mayor Of St. Joseph Likes Lincoln

"Lincoln has the most beautiful residential section I ever saw," said Ex-Mayor John C. Whitsell of St Joseph Monday afternoon after riding through the city on the tour arranged for the democratic visitors before the reception at the governor's mansion

When he gets back home he's going to tell the people that Lincoln is one of the best cities in the United States He had no idea that such a residential section existed anywhere, he said—never saw anything like it before.

Congressman John H Morehead of Falls City and his private secretary, George Santo, came to Lincoln with Mr. Whitsell, who is an old friend of the congressman's

SENATOR WATSON PRAISES DAWES

Declares General Is "Big Enough" To Be Next Vice President.

Criticizes Davis and Democrats In Chicago Luncheon Address.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Allied-German acceptance of the Dawes plan was declared by Senator Watson of Indiana, in an address today before the Hamilton club of Chicago, to be the republican party's answer to the inquiry of John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee as to what single contribution the present republican administration had made to the peace of the world.

Senator Watson spoke at a luncheon of the Hamilton club held as a preliminary to the notification ceremonies tonight for the republican party's vice presidential choice, C. G. Dawes. He paid high tribute to Mr. Dawes saying:

"As Charles G. Dawes was big enough to lead the first budget commission and successfully launch that craft on an uncharted sea and as he was big enough to formulate the plan that has restored peace in Europe and planted hope in the hearts of the people around the world, surely he is big enough to be the next vice president of the United States."

The Indiana senator assailed the democratic position on the League of Nations and on foreign affairs as inconsistent and grotesque. The democratic platform proposal for a national referendum on the league, he said, was "fanciful, illegal, unconstitutional and revolutionary."

Quoting from speeches by Mr. Davis in the campaign of 1920, declaring it to be the "duty and interest of America to join to relieve the world of war as soon as possible" through the league, Mr. Watson accused the democratic nominee as now having "turned squarely about, faced in the opposite direction and feebly proposing that a vote be taken on this question before we finally take the step."

The election of 1920, Senator Watson contended, had provided a referendum and the course of the republican party under Presidents Harding and Coolidge, he added had been in strict accord with that referendum.

Davis Well Up With His Work

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Having practically finished the subject matters of several of his forthcoming addresses during a three day stay at his home, John W. Davis found time today to devote his attention to conferences at his personal headquarters here.

The democratic presidential nominee was ready to take up with George White, former chairman of the democratic national committee, questions concerning the make-up of the "board of strategy" and other matters having an important bearing on his campaign.

G. O. P. WITHOUT TEXAS CANDIDATE

Thomas P. Lee Again Refuses To Be Nominee For Chief Executive.

(Associated Press.)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 19.—The republican party of Texas today was without an official candidate for governor following the action of its nominee, Thomas P. Lee of Houston, in issuing a statement here yesterday reiterating his refusal to be the candidate for chief executive of the state.

The statement, addressed to the republicans of Texas thanked them for the honor of nominating him for governor, declared that he did not seek the nomination. "Since I felt there were other good republicans in our state who could serve our party interest in this capacity better, and that owing to false quotations or incorrect interpretation of my communication to Mr. James B. Ferguson by one or two of our own people, who have made some rash and injurious public statements that would handicap my best efforts for party success," he declined the gubernatorial nomination.

Fairbury Farmer Is Charged With Burning Own House

That he himself set fire to his house and caused its destruction, with all contents, for the purpose of collecting $2,000 insurance on policies placed with the Farmers' Mutual of Lincoln, has been confessed by Ira A. Mann, a farmer living near Fairbury, in a signed statement obtained by L. J. Butcher, deputy state fire marshal, and W. E. Studnicker, adjuster for the company.

Mann was taken before County Judge L. J. Nutzman at Fairbury, where he acknowledged his guilt. He was bound over to the district court and is at liberty on $2,50 bail bond.

The house on Mann's farm was burned to the ground in the late afternoon of August 7. The family had been in Fairbury during the day and Mann says in his signed statement that he left the others there while he drove out south of town, parked his car near the Max Segil farm, and then walked a mile to his own place. Piling some old rags on the kitchen floor, he set fire to them From outside, he watched the progress of the fire until smoke was pouring out of all the windows. He then returned to his automobile and drove to Fairbury.

The house and furnishings were estimated to be worth $1,500, but were insured for $2,000. Mann's confessions says he intended to use part of the insurance money in paying a note for about $600 at the Harbine bank, the balance to build another house.

Permits Railroad To Shorten Trip

Permission has been given by the state railway commission to the Missouri Pacific railroad to shorten the trip of its daily passenger train each way, over the Talmage branch, by making Auburn instead of Falls City the southern terminus. This will be effective on one day's notice. The trains run to Omaha and back, and the new routing will save about 31 miles of distance in each direction.

Several other trains on the main line from Lincoln and Omaha are operated daily, both ways, between Falls City and Auburn, which the commission thinks will leave sufficient service on that portion of the line.

Wants Bryan For Labor Day Speech

An invitation to speak at Elk Point, S. D., on Labor day, September 1, was received Tuesday by Governor Bryan from Louis N. Crill of that place, who is chairman of the democratic state committee in South Dakota It is doubtful whether the governor can go, as all his speaking engagements are now in the hands of the democratic national committee, and his intinerary is being made up with a view to covering as much territory as possible.

BRYAN RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS

Many Telegrams From Leading Democrats Are Received By Nominee Tuesday.

No Definite Plans Made For Speaking Tour Thankful to "Home Folks."

Governor Bryan was "feeling fine" Tuesday morning, after the successful staging of his notification the evening before He received telegrams from political friends in other states congratulating him on the event and on his discussion of the issues.

One of those wiring congratulations was Mrs. Leroy Springs, a South Carolina woman who was placed in nomination and voted for at the New York convention as a candidate for vice president. Similar messages came from Governor Sweet of Colorado and from Joseph E Guffey of Pittsburgh, who headed the Pennsylvania delegation at New York., Mr. Guffey is a nephew of the former "boss" in that state, now deceased, who was severely criticised by W. J. Bryan during his campaign for the presidency in 1908.

No definite conclusions were reached, Mr Bryan said, in the conference he held Tuesday with National Chairman Shaver, as to his speaking engagements during the campaign or the territory he will cover. It is probable that he will start the first stumping tour bfore September 1. His speeches will be mostly in the middle western states.

The governor was preparing to go to Omaha for "Lincoln night" at the Ak-Sar-Ben den, where a burlesque notification ceremonial was said to be on the program Some of the other state house officials expected to make the trip with him and the delegation of Lincoln business and professional men. Those of the visitors from other states who came to attend the notification and remained over were to accompay Mr. Bryan as special guests of Ak-Sar-Ben.

State Senator Charles E. Hull of Salem, Ill., an old friend and acquaintance of the governor, was one of the party, C. A. Lord, T. S. Allen, and other local democratic leaders also expected to go.

Thanks Lincoln People.

Mr Bryan expressed his appreciation to the people of Lincoln nad the state of Nebraska, and especially the press, "for the generous and magnanimous treatment accorded me in connection with the notification proceedings"

"It was very fine of the mayor," he said, "and of the chamber of commerce and civic clubs to join in invitations to the governors and prominent personages of other states. The friendly feeling and consideration shown here in my home city is very gratifying. Differences of political opinion have not interfered with maintaining pleasant personal and social relations, and I hope that no act or utterance of mine during the campaign will tend to disturb these pleasant relations with the home folks."

The governor also acknowledged his gratitude for the manner in which Lincoln business houses and homes were decorated with flags and pictures, in honor of the notification

Farmers Fear Weeds By Railroad Tracks Will Infest Fields

Farmers in Cass county are growing apprehensive lest the weed crop along the Missouri Pacific railroad be allowed to go to seed and infest their lands Two complaints alleging this condition to be imminent have been received by the state railway commission, one from Weeping Water and the other from Tipton precinct.

The railway commission has no authority over weeds on railroad land, but the state law requires that they be mowed annually between July 15 and August 15 If this is not done, it becomes the duty of local road supervisors to cut the weeds and charge the cost up as taxes against the railroad company in the precinct

Speeches Heard In Mississippi

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi received a telegram at 10 o'clock Monday evening, upon his return with the Bryan family to the executive mansion after the notification program was ended, which said that the speeches of himself and Governor Bryan, as well as everything else, came through with great clearness and was heard in the senator's home town 800 miles away.

Governor Bryan had word Tuesday morning that his and Senator Harrison's speeches were heard very distinctly at Elk Point, S. D.

200 ARE GOING TO AK-SAR-BEN

Governor Bryan To Attend For Lincoln Night At Omaha Show.

More than 200 Lincoln men will attend Lincoln night at the Ak-Sar-Ben den in Omaha Tuesday at 8 p m. Governor Bryan with Senator E. C. Hull of Illinois, a boyhood friend from the governor's birthplace, will leave at 4:40 for Omaha where his notification as vice presidential candidate of the democratic party will be confirmed in mock show at the Ak-Sar-Ben den. "Bullfornia" is to be the main show of the evening.

Special service will be provided by the Burlington on the train to Omaha at 6 p. m., and about 125 are expected in that group.

Telephone calls have been coming in all day to Secretary Whitten of the chamber of commerce asking about the accommodations so that he feels sure at least 200 will make the trip by auto and train.

The Lincoln delegation will be met in Omaha and taken to the den in automobiles.

La Follette Plans To Wage Vigorous Fight In Nebraska

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Senators La Follette and Wheeler will give battle to the democratic ticket in John W. Davis' home state, West Virginia, and in the "solid south," according to Robert M LaFollette, jr., who arrived here today to confer with Gilbert S. Roe, regional director, Arthur Garfield Hayes, state chairman, and Herman L. Ekern, in charge of the campaign fund to be solicited from the general public

The senator's son leaves tonight for Washington where the progressive nominees will confer Thursday as to speaking tours

The situation in the far west, Mr La Follette described as bright, and he announced that a vigorous fight would be made for Nebraska, the home state of Governor Bryan.

TEST RIGHT OF MUNICIPAL SHOW

Restraining Order is Obtained Against City Owned Theater.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 19—The right of a municipality in Nebraska to operate a moving picture theatre, in competition with private enterprise is brought to court test for the first time in a suit filed today by the Hostettler Amusement company which operates theatres in a number of Nebraska towns, including Hastings.

Appearing before Judge Dilworth at Holdrege the company obtained a temporary restraining order against the mayor and council of Hastings, compelling the immediate suspension of all payments in connection with the operation of a theatre in the municipal auditorium.

The order also restrains the city officials from making payments on an organ soon to be installed, from making any contracts for films, and from further advertising.

Hearing on an application for further relief was set for September 2.

The petition of the Hostettler company alleges that the city theatre is being operated at a loss of about $2,000 a month, which deficit it says is made up out of the general fund of the city. It alleges that contract was entered into for the purchase of an organ without making an appropriation to pay for it. It disputes the right of the city to operate a theatre for amusement at which an admission fee is charged.

The municipal auditorium was completed last spring. In addition to being used for large public gatherings, it has been operated as a picture theatre, a manager being employed for this purpose by the city.

Make Plans For Hall County Fair

(Special to The Star.)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Aug. 19.—The directors of the Central Nebraska Agricultural association are gradually getting fair preparations in shape. The dates are Sept. 9 to 12. Main feature will be Childrens day, with a dog and pony parade and a Home Coming day, for which invitations will be sent out to all former residents of Hall county residing at a distance whose addresses are obtainable. The chamber of commerce in is taking over the listing and inviting of these. Letters are being solicited from these as to outstanding historical incidents in their time. A historic pageant is being prepared under the direction of Prof. Gunn of the Grand Island conservatory of music. An historic parade through the streets of the city is also planned. The merchants of the city are planning to co-operate especially in this line. The season promises the best agricultural display ever shown and a full program of races, baseball and other entertainment is being provided for. It is expected that two bands will constantly be on the grounds.

Jefferson County Farms Bring Cash

(Special to The Star.)

JANSEN, Neb., Aug. 19—Two cash sales of farms totaling 480 acres were made in this vicinity this week. Henry Grummert bought the John Nider 320 acres at $165 an acre and Henry Ebke of DeWitt bought the 160 acre farm of Fred Dormann, two miles east of Jansen, for $26,500, nearly $166 an acre.

Prospects for a bumper crop of corn in this vicinity were never better. There is now sufficient moisture to mature the grain. Some old corn is selling at $1 a bushel. Elevators were paying $1.09 for wheat Monday.

MUCH WHEAT SOLD.

(Special to The Star)

BEARICE, Neb., Aug 19—A large amount of wheat poured into Bearice yesterday from farms near this city, some of the grain being threshed from the stack. The price paid was $1 08 and $1 10 per bushel.

Traffic Census Is Taken On Highways

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 19—Ten thousand eight hundred and eighty automobiles and trucks and forty-two horse-drawn vehicles—that was the record of the first day's census of the road travel through Fremont, on four principal highways—the Lincoln highway, the Cornhusker highway, the B line and the Black Hills trail.

Boy scouts are making the count for the highway association, under the supervision of George F. Woz. Scouts are stationed at the principal entrances and exits, to the city. Huge signs appear in the middle of the highways, asking motorists to assist the boys.

NEW DANCE PAVILION.

(Special to The Star.)

BLOOMFIELD, Neb., Aug. 19—The large dance pavilion that is being erected by the local American Legion post on the grounds of the Knox county fair association is now practically completed, laying of the top floor being about all that is left to be done. Arrangements have been made to formally open it with a big dance on the evening of Aug. 28 and plans are being made to entertain a big crowd.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY.

(Special to The Star.)

BLOOMFIELD, Neb., Aug. 19.—The Knox County Sunday School association will hold a big rally at Young's Park, near Bazile on Sunday, Aug. 24. Dr. Hull, D. D., of Norfolk, will be the principal speaker and a big attendance is looked for. Mrs. Fred Blankenfeld of Bloomfield is secretary of the association.

RECEIVED WORD OF DEATH.

(Special to The Star)

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug 19—Word was received here announcing the death of Ira J. Prather, formerly a resident of this vicinity, which occurred at his home at Oakland, California, where he had been located for the past twenty years. He was a son of C. Prather of DeWitt. At the time of his death he was manager of the branch house of the Aerometer Windmill company at Oakland.

TWO ARE FINED.

(Special to The Star)

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 19.—Paul Potratz of Plymouth, Neb., and Blythe Thompson of Lincoln, Neb., who were arrested in a room at the Butler hotel here Saturday evening, pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct Monday morning when they faced Judge Ellis. They were fined $10 and costs each. Potratz claims to have been employed as a school teacher near Plymouth for some time. Miss Thompson, who gave her address as Lincoln, told the officers that her home was in Iowa.

Improvements To Be Made In Adams Fair

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug 19—Extensive improvements at the Adams county fair will be recommended by Secretary John T. Biglin, as a result of the continued success of the enterprise.

Among the things which Mr. Biglin will inform the executive board are urgently needed are: Additional grand stands, a permanent children's building and additional cattle and swine barns.

All facilities of the fair were overtaxed in the season just closed. The attendance on four days has been estimated at 90,000 and the profit over operating expenses is put at about $4,000.

The Adams county fair has grown steadily each year.

Settle Binderup Suit Out of Court

(Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Aug. 19. — The suit of Charles Binderup, Minden, Neb., against seventeen New York moving picture distributing corporations for $240,000 damages for alleged blacklist of his theatre circuit in southern Nebraska, has been settled out of court after three and a half years of litigation.

The distributors, according to C. T. Anderberry, attorney for Binderup paid $25,000 in cash and "other valuable considerations" in exchange for an agreement on Binderup's part to cease all actions he had been forcing in the appellate court and for waiving all rights to any further action.

Man Is Seriously Injured In Crash

FREMONT, Neb., Aug 19.—Ed Ector, colored, of Omaha, had his juglar vein nearly severed and his jaw broken in two places, besides suffering numerous other bruises, when a big Cadillac automobile driven by Henry Thompson of Fremont, crashed into him on the Lincoln highway east of the city Sunday night. Ector and two companions, bound for Omaha, had stopped to repair the lights on their car. In the darkness of the night, Thompson did not see the three men. At a hospital it was said Ector's chances of recovery were fair. His companions were not seriously hurt.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 19.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Elizabeth Yockel, pioneer of Beatrice, were held at St. Joseph's Catholic church, conducted by Father E. L. Bickert. Burial was in Evergreen Home cemetery. Mrs. Yockel is survived by seven children, Miss Anna Yockel of Lincoln, being one of the number.

Band Of Whites Are Being Ruled By African Chief

LONDON, Aug. 19. — Out of the great African interior by way of Capetown comes a pathetic story of a group of white men and women who are living in a state of subjection to blacks who exercise complete mastery over them.

The tragic fate of the unfortunate whites has just been revealed in a report which officials of the South African government's expedition, now in the interior of the great Kalahari desert, have sent to Capetown.

When they arrived at Molopolole, they found the native chief, Sabele, well educated and able to speak English fluently.

The visitors discovered some fifty white men and women living near the chief's kraal where they act as servants. They are thought to be descendants of old Dutch pioneers, who, trekking into the interior, lost themselves in the desert and flung themselves on the mercy of the natives.

These unfortunates have no power to own land and no privileges of any kind.

Try to Break Into Safe at Hastings

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 19—Safeblowers who broke into the Hastings Bottling Works last night got nothing for their pains, but the damage they caused with a crowbar on the safe and other equipment will cost the company several hundred dollars to repair.

Kanred Wheat Sets The Highest Record

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 19.—Kanred wheat was found to hold a material advantage in yield over two other kinds in an official test made on the Charles Reader farm near Trumbull, under the directions of County agent Claybaugh of Clay county. The yields per acre were: Kanred, 29.12; Nebraska No. 60, 27.28; Turkey red, 27.08.

PLAN COMMUNITY PICNIC.

(Special to The Star.)

JANSEN, Neb., Aug. 19.—Jansen will hold its second annual community picnic August 26 and 27. A number of attractions have been booked for the occasion and preparations for a crowd are being made.

BRANDEIS TAKES OVER BIG ESTATE

Son of Late Omaha Man Comes Into Possession of More Than $5,000,000.

(Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Aug. 19—E. John Brandeis, today came into possession of holdings said to exceed $5,000,000 in value, including the J. L. Brandeis and Sons department store, under the terms of the will of his father, the late Arthur Brandeis.

With regard to the department store, Mr. Brandeis said no changes will be made in the management of the institution, one of the largest business enterprises in the central west.

"Credit for the growth of the store," he said, "all goes to my cousin, George Brandeis."

George Brandeis, manager of the store, still has eight years to serve, under his contract.

"My grandfather started this business about 50 years ago," E. John Brandeis said. "Naturally I want to do all in my power to make it go on."

Prepare To Float Big German Loan

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—With the successful conclusion of the inter-allied conference, American bankers Monday began speeding up the machinery for flotation of their share of the $200,000,000 international loan to Germany upon which operations of the Dawes plan will hinge.

Preparations for underwriting this huge financial transaction will be started at once, international bankers indicated, with prospects that ratification of the London protocol by France and Germany will be followed by an early sale of the loan. The offering, however, is not expected before October.

Briefly Told News From the Wires

Important facts about oil heat

—what it costs—what it does

10,000 installations of this simple unit proves that it pays for itself out of savings. A new plan by which it is obtainable on easy terms

THE following facts give you new ideas about what oil burning can do and save for you. And outline a new plan of paying while you use this most efficient burner.

These 4 questions answered

Is oil heat practical—proved? Is it dependable? Can I rely upon it as I would upon coal heat? Can I get oil for fuel as easily as I can get coal?

Consider these facts:

Practically all new ocean vessels, and those built during the past 5 years, are oil-burning! This is also true of railroads, important industrial plants, factories, public buildings.

Coal as a heating fuel is being supplanted everywhere by oil.

In your own neighborhood there are homes where Kleen-Heet is providing a new measure of heating comfort and satisfaction. We will gladly provide you with names—so that you can secure first-hand opinions.

It is impossible now to consider that oil burning, as perfected in Kleen-Heet, is an experiment.

It is reliable, simple

Coal is antiquated, dirty, expensive in labor. And there is now no reason to put up with it through another heating season.

With Kleen-Heet, you simply light burner at start of the heating season. Then set the thermostat at exact degree of room-temperature desired. That exact degree of heat will be delivered—day and night—without further thought or attention on your part. No more cold rooms at night.

An oil wagon will draw up to your door, discharge its load in a few minutes, and be gone. Minus the dirt and dust of coal, minus the expense of a man to put it in! And this fuel oil is always available, everywhere! Over 10,000 Kleen-Heet installations are in use today, throughout America.

Kleen-Heet has 6 exclusive features—not found on other oil-burners. And Kleen-Heet is unqualifiedly guaranteed.

So do not make the great mistake of purchasing an oil-burner which has yet to be proved!

Right now is the best time of this whole year to give intelligent consideration to Kleen-Heet.

The coupon will bring an outline of new payment plan, prices, size of unit you'll need, etc. Plain, straightforward facts. Get them. They're valuable!

Look for these 5 things when you consider an oil-burner

1. Simplicity of mechanism—Kleen-Heet has fewer parts than any other automatic oil-burner on the market. Nothing complicated to go wrong and cause annoyance. It is entirely automatic.

2. Proved performance—Kleen-Heet is not a theoretical type of oil-burner. Kleen-Heet has proved its performance with thousands of users, under all conditions of use and weather.

3. Installation and service—We are equipped to render the 100% service we guarantee our users at all times. Service 24 hours a day—during the heating season.

4. The right burner for you—Kleen-Heet builds the widest range of burners on the market. Thus we have the exact type for your requirements. You do not get the "nearest thing we've got." You get the exact installation needed.

5. The company behind it—The company behind Kleen-Heet is one of the oldest in the oil-burner industry. Solid, dependable, experienced, strongly financed.

The cost . . .

Cost of fuel is equivalent to that of heating with coal. In many cases less. And that's the whole cost! You save the expense of a "furnace man"—$15 to $25 a month average—or your own time at equal valuation.

You save ash-hauling. You save constant cleaning and redecorating. For oil is clean. No dirt, soot, ashes, dust.

In thousands of cases these savings are enough to meet the monthly payments on an average-size oil-burner!

A type and price for every home

A Kleen-Heet unit may be purchased—on easy payments, as desired—precisely adapted to your particular heating demands.

We offer a wider range of units than any other oil burner company. We offer the exact model required for your home.

An average two-months' coal bill suffices for initial payment. Under this new plan, Kleen-Heet is purchased from income rather than capital.

We want to send you full details.

Guard against this mistake

BRYAN'S ACCEPTANCE.

Mr Bryan's speech of acceptance Monday might was a sore disappointment to the republican leaders in charge of the Coolidge Dawes campaign

The democratic nominee for vice president did not kick over the bucket He did not paint things red He did not utter a single wild word Governor Bryan stated his views with a moderation and restraint that was commendable but at the same time he hit out straight from the shoulder One did not need any explanatory charts to follow him His speech was a simple frank open exposition of democratic doctrine which will add strength to the democratic campaign

As the spokesman of the agricultural west Mr Bryan touched upon those subjects which have been a thorn these last few months He was inconsiderate enough to recall that when this present administration took office the farmers were receiving a compensatory price for their products Under the deflation policy inaugurated by Mr Harding in accordance with a platform pledge and campaign utterances the west passed through the horrible nightmare of the last three years But that is not the full indictment which Mr Bryan lodged against the Harding Coolidge administration After squeezing the farmers until prosperity gave way to acute depression and suffering New England industries were permitted to prosper and to thrive at the expense of the middlewest through an obnoxious tariff which in a single year extracted $600 000 000 from the consumers and placed it and much more in the pockets of the manufacturer

Mr Bryan does not suggest a series of fantastical wield remedies for agricultural

There is much of common sense in what he has to say

First of all he demands that the parity between the farmers dollar and the manufacturers dollar be re established It is not fair that the farmer should be compelled to pay an artificial price for that which he must buy and sell that he raises on an unprotected market Mr Bryan is correct in stating that the farmers chief grievance arises as a result of the extortionate tariff for the manufacturers while the farmer sells on a market fixed by world conditions He is correct in counseling every aid and assistance to co operative efforts of the farmers He is correct in recommending cheaper transportation for the products of the farm by a more extensive development of waterways and a readjustment of railroad rates

His address of acceptance is a sane sound and constructive document

It is entirely in harmony with the best traditions of democracy

AMERICA'S WEALTH

Figures compiled by the National Industrial conference board reveal the incredibly rapid progress America has made in material wealth in the last seventy years

From 1850 to 1920 the figures show the population of the United States increased 3 6 times but the physical production of agricultural crops rose 5 2 times that of manufacturing increased 98 times and that of mining over 77 times This enormous increase in production was accompanied and entirely accomplished by an increase of approximately 3 6 times in shipping tonnage and 25 times in miles of railroad lines aside from a considerable expansion of auto truck transportation and extensive highway and waterway construction With the exception of shipping tonnage every one of the items on the chart shows an increase that is above the increase in population There is more food more of manufactured goods more of mining production available per unit of population now than there was two three or four generations ago

The steadiness of the population rise is clear By 1817 it had doubled from 1800 by 1893 it had trebled and at the last census was four and a half times greater than it was seventy years ago The progress of manufacturing estimated by the volume of production runs in a steady parallel with the opening up of the railroads Previous to 1890 there are no records of the volume of freight transported but no phase of industrial life has shown more rapid progress since then The amount of agricultural production after a quiet spell from 1880 to 1890 has increased at an equal rate of volume during each of the three ten year periods since 1890

Within the borders of the United States there is 40 per cent of all of the installed water power in the world 35 per cent of the railroad mileage and 57 per cent of all telegraph and telephone lines The United States produces about 41 per cent of the world's cereals 71 per cent of the world's cotton 50 per cent of its coal 64 per cent of its petroleum and 52 per cent of its timber To the world's output the United States contributes 60 per cent of the zinc 48 per cent of the lead 69 per cent of the copper and 52 per cent of the pig iron

History fails to disclose a single instance of the middle ages or in modern times where a single nation without aggression or conquest has come to possess such a large proportion of the world's wealth It should bring to the people of this country a feeling of gratitude and appreciation in recognition of how fortunately they are placed in comparison to the other peoples of the world

IGNORING MR HARDING

Attention is being directed to the fact that Mr Coolidge in his acceptance address failed to make reference to his predecessor It is a most unusual situation

Mr Harding was a kindly human man The mistakes which he made were due to his largness of heart He could not refuse a friend or inflict pain and suffering where it was possible to avoid it It would seem that some expression could have come from Mr Coolidge without imperiling chances of republican success

The campaign strategy of the republican managers in this particular is plain They wan the people to forget the administration of the one whom they ignore Yet the success or failure of the last four years must largely be attributed to Mr Harding He was in office the major portion of the time Mr Coolidge has been president for only a year The record of economy the tariff law the arms conference and other accomplishments to which Mr Coolidge pointed with pride transpired under the administration of Mr Harding Only two pieces of legislation of importance can be credited to Mr Coolidge One was the tax measure and the other the immigration bill Both measures as finally adopted had his aggressive active opposition Both became law over his protest

[illegible] useful from the record of Warren Harding but he is unwilling to assume responsibility for anything which might injure his chances for re election

What will the republicans think of this cold blooded selfishness? How do they feel about the failure to give credit for a single accomplishment to the man whom they loved in spite of his weaknesses? Mr Coolidge may believe that the necessities of the case demand that he ignore his former chieftain But it would seem that he might at least mention the name of the late president

MEXICO LOOKS FORWARD

All the public utterances of Mexico's new president Elias Calles since his election a few weeks ago show him to be devoted to the program of developing the country's internal resources educating the people and welcoming the aid of foreign capital particularly from the United States in putting the industries of Mexico upon their feet

The people of the southern republic are weary of armed strife banditry and pillage They want to live peaceful lives and enjoy some of the better things which civilization affords Under such leaders as Obregon and Calles it appears that their hopes will be realized The retiring and the incoming president are both broad-minded men who have the good sense to see that the United States is a friend of their country anxous to assist it and not an enemy to be feared

Here is what President elect Calles had to say of Mexican aspiration and Mexican sentiments toward the American people in his first public statement after being chosen to head the new government

Mexico has a special affection for the United States The two nations should work together in sympathy and harmony They can add to each others prosperity as they increase the extent of their intercourse

This rule of class and the era of special benefits for special classes is over in Mexico All classes and all groups will be accorded the rights of the law but not extra legal privileges whether they be religious, financial or vested in their nature

Mexico has seen her last revolution She stands firmly committed to the new constitution and its reforms

Mexicans are going ahead economically and spiritually Homes well paid labor and schools are going to be the portion of the families of Mexico in the future

The lands will continue to be restored to the Indians who are their rightful owners There will be no more exploitation of the Indians of Mexico

The rights of foreigners and foreign capital will be respected and both are welcome in Mexico when they come there to observe our laws and co operate for our mutual benefit

The international debt of the country must and will be paid It is a debt of honor

Mexico will scrupulously respect the integrity of other nations as she demands that other nations respect hers

There will be absolute insistence that all government in the republic function for social justice

THE PRESIDENT'S VACATION

President Coolidge and his family Monday started their vacation at the old family home in Vermont The press representatives who accompanied Mr Coolidge turned out an excellent political story on the events which occupied the first day of the first respite which the president has taken since he assumed the responsibilities of office

The elder Coolidge had been making hay

And what should be more natural than that Calvin Coolidge should join in those labors A small portion of the field—not too much but nevertheless enough—was left unraked Never was greater consideration given to the details of raking a small piece of hay land The press dispatches relate that President Coolidge was presented with two rakes by Representative Treadway of Massachusetts on behalf of Marshall Stead man a tariff protected rake maker of Massachusetts Thanking Rep Treadway Mr Coolidge is reported to have said that it reminded him of days gone by

That we submit is the perfect political idyll

Sometime later unquestionably the poet his soul filled with the beauty of the occasion will immortalize it in verse No doubt it will be sung with the glow of some other lines which pass through our mind

Maud Muller on a summer day
Raked the meadows sweet with hay

Beneath her torn hat glowed the wealth
Of rustic beauty and perfect health

Maud it would seem raked the meadow not from inclination but because of necessity Possibly she was reducing or something like that But Calvin Coolidge was different He slapped his tattered old straw hat on his head and grabbed a rake for the sheer joy of renewing his youth Next summer with the presidential campaign out of the way Mr Coolidge may be induced to take a cruise on his yacht But just now he feels very close to the soil

More Truth Than Poetry

BIT SUBTLE, PERHAPS

The hours that I have spent with you
He said I don't consider lost
In future seasons I'll have few
Regrets for what my venture cost
Your beauty let me say has thrilled me
A fact that gladly I admit
But Lord how often you have grilled me
And had no mercy—not a bit

I don't mind saying that you've made
Me do my best to get ahead
Your bills had somehow to be paid
I had to see that you were fed
On your account I've taken chances
That I'd have turned from otherwise
I once found solace in your glances
You seemed an angel in disguise

Your nagging(I may say) has hurt
Your scolding oft has made me sore
But I have learned to be alert
I'm not a ploder any more
When others see me stripped for action
They rate me well past thirty cents
If that affords you satisfaction
Accept it with my compliments

I know that other men have thought
That I was far out classed by you
And confidently I'll not
Deny that what they've thought is true
You're beauty style and grace but thunder
A saint I'm sure would go insane
If forced to live with you I wonder
If I have made my meaning plain"

A Bit of Homely Philosophy

THERE ARE MANY THINGS ABOUT THE HOUSE FOR YOU TO DO

Do you get the pay you ought to be are you?

Sometimes when you hear the stories some of the neighbors are circulating about you you become quite angry but if you should stop and consider some of the things you do or you do not do you might come to the conclusion that those neighbors are nearer right than wrong

Don't you fail in many ways to meet a high standing mark?

How about the work about your own home that you should take care of

Some of the jobs your wife asked you to do months ago are still undone

You make all kinds of excuses for not doing them but if you had cared very much if you had really wanted to do them they would have been accomplished before now

Of course you are tired when you reach home you want to be at ease

But unless you can hire some one to do certain work about your home there are many things which it is up to you to attend to not your wife's place

Not willingly your wife has made several suggestions about improving the lawn and the premises If you are putting it off and all the time it is getting darker and harder and the work is piling up also

Harrison Says Demo Party Is Only Medium Through Which American People Can Hope To Secure Beneficial Results In Government

No other medium than the democratic party is available at the present time through which the American people can hope to secure beneficial results in government during the next four years Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi declared in his address Monday evening formally conveying to Governor Charles W Bryan the official tidings of his selection as that party's candidate for vice president

Whatever our political enemies have said about us he said the democratic party has never been charged either with hopeless division or with impotency Only through the election of the democratic ticket this year can there be co operation and harmony between the executive and the legislative branches of the government

The democratic party has proven its ability to harmonize differences unite efforts and get results through team work both while in control and while in the minority The republican party is hopelessly disrupted without plan or purpose courage or cohesion It is torn with dissension and wrecked by antagonistic elements

Senator Harrison predicted confusion and chaos for four years to come if the republican ticket should win because he said congress would not follow the leadership of the republican president The only chance of securing progressive legislation in that event would be through a coalition of democratic and progressive republicans to pass bills over the opposition of reactionary republicans and over the presidential veto he stated While some relief might be obtained in that way as it was in the last session of congress the speaker insisted that much more and better work could be done with a democratic president in the White House acting in sympathy and co operation with a democratic majority in the two branches of congress

With the record of the republican nominee fresh in the minds of the American people what wisdom or consistency is there in giving aid to his continuance in power when it must be known that to accomplish any relief in the interest of the masses they must at the same time elect two thirds of a congress diametrically opposed to his ideas and antagonistic to his views"

Referring indirectly to the La Follette movement which he treated as a revolt of progressive republicans against the reactionary control of their party Senator Harrison pointed out its utter futility as a means of translating the desires of the people into governmental action

Whatever independence one may possess and however non partisan one may be continued Mr Harrison he must know that in the coming November election either the democratic or the republican ticket would triumph

Points to Party's Record

Conceding that some republican senators and representatives in congress had done useful work as individuals in promoting progressive measures the Mississippi orator stated That the records of these men were not more progressive than that of the democratic party as a whole What progressive leader whether he be an independent a farmer laborite or a member of the republican party can justify finding fault with the progressive record of the democratic party? he demanded There is not a congressman or a senator—I care not with what party label he may be branded—if he has cast his votes and aligned himself in the congress on the side of the people but who has voted under democratic organization There has not been a progressive measure to pass the American congress within the last twelve years that was not passed under democratic guidance and with democratic votes

During the last four years there have been two contending forces in the congress One was representing the views of the present administration and led by the forces of reaction The other was the force of progress and liberalism led by the democratic organization When the republican members of the congress voted for progressive measures they voted with the democratic party The defeat of the present administration's ship subsidy proposal which saved the American taxpayers $850 000 000 was one of the accomplishments of the progressive forces in the congress The battle that was waged in the interest of the American farmer and laborer and consumer against ingulious and indefensible provisions of the Fordney McCumber tariff law was another The defeat of the republican Mellon plan of taxation and the adoption of the Democratic plan was another

The long hard fight to rid this administration of graft and corruption to drive from the public service proven and self confessed criminals and preserve the natural resources of this country was another There were many men on the firing line in those battles not of the democratic faith but who joined whole heartedly and made their accomplishment possible But in all of those contests there was no independent progressive republican whose record scintillated more in behalf of the masses and overflowed more with progressive and liberal spirit than did the membership that composed the democratic organizations in the American congress

But it is not alone on the fight against odds that the democratic party has waged as a minority party for the past four years that it claims to be progressive It further offers its record of eight years' faithful service to the people—from 1912 to 1920—when it controlled every agency in the government to justify its appeal today

Lists Achievements

Among the progressive achievements of the party under Woodrow Wilson's leadership the speaker recounted these

Constitutional amendments for elections of senators by direct vote of the people and for the income tax

Establishment of a federal reserve system

Inauguration of federal good roads policy

A tariff law that carried no discrimination against agriculture but provided for the admission of farm implements duty free

Creation of federal trade and tariff commissions

Passage of labor legislation including anti injunction and the Clayton law the seamen's law and the workmen's compensation law

Establishment of rural credit system fortified by the warehouse act the grain grades act and the agricultural extension act

Defeat of the ship subsidy bill the battle waged against the iniquitous and indefensible provisions of the Fordney McCumber tariff law defeat of the Mellon tax plan and adoption of an excess profits substitute and the long and hard fight to rid this administration of graft and corruption were detailed as achievements of the progressive forces the democratic alignment with which no one could deny during the last four years

Senator Harrison ridiculed the glad tidings of good news in the statement made by President Coolidge during his acceptance address that he proposed to appoint a committee which would investigate and suggest measures of agricultural relief for congressional action at a later date The fact was recalled that over three years ago such a committee was appointed by him under congressional direction while he was serving as vice president and that it made a report in the fall of the same year but nothing has been done to[illegible] any of its recommendations enacted into law

Tribute to J W Davis

Tribute was paid by the speaker to democracy's national leader John W Davis as a man who had served his country with marked distinction in congress as solicitor general and as ambassador at the court of St James He credited Mr Davis with having taken an important part in placing the workmen's compensation and Clayton anti trust laws on the statute books. In every situation he declared Mr Davis had shown himself a champion of American thought and American ideals

Addressing Governor Bryan personally Senator Harrison said

As spokesman for the notification committee appointed by the last democratic national convention in keeping with a long established custom it gives me pleasure to apprise you of your nomination as the candidate of the democratic party for vice president of the United States

The quickness and unanimity of your nomination attest your popularity and the high favor of your progressive views It required one hundred and three ballots before the convention was able to agree upon its presidential nominee It required one ballot to agree upon you But from that memorable convention of unbossed and independent delegates the democratic party emerges stronger and more militant than ever The acrimony of its debates the tenseness of its meetings the sharp differences of party policies with such a happy conclusion give renewed assurance of the party's strength

A political party founded upon principles less enduring upon teachings less appealing upon traditions less glorious might have been disrupted But its long deliberations and sharp contests were but in keeping with[illegible] and party independence

And[illegible] the American electorate will watched your record of reform[illegible] and action The opposite was true in 1912 as the democratic nominee for governor[illegible] carried Nebraska by 50 000 majority but the republican ticket in practically every other instance[illegible] was borne by over 100 000 majority Time does not forgetful that it was[illegible] in 1914 who carried every county in Nebraska as democratic candidate for renomination as governor[illegible] in addition thereto received[illegible] cent of the votes cast in the state the independent progressives The American people know that these splendid endorsements were won as a reward for your long and untiring efforts in behalf of the masses—fighting as a private in the[illegible] beside of public morality and progress It is the crowning glory of work well done Your endorsement for re election as the governor of your state not only by your party but other progressives of Nebraska reflects the able and progressive manner in which you have served your state as chief executive

Few men situated are able to do in a lifetime what you have been able to accomplish within less than two years While the federal government was talking reorganization you were actually reducing the number of state employes under your jurisdiction by 50 per cent While other state governments were increasing taxes you were reducing them by 33 per cent The saving to the people of Nebraska due to the courageous manner in which you handled the coal and gasoline situations and the reforms you brought about in the public works department of your state can hardly be measured in dollars and cents The long list of progressive achievements that has filled the pathway of your short administration reflects credit upon the common sense and patriotism of your citizenship

I now hand you an authenticated copy of the platform adopted at Madison Square Garden as well as a formal letter of notification and may I say in conclusion governor that the ticket Davis and Bryan thrills our hearts and stirs our souls It has aroused a feeling of enthusiasm from one end of this country to the other and tonight we light new torches erect new standards enlist new recruits and as a mighty army of crusaders we will go forth and from this hour on we will not pitch our camps nor furl our flags until we have battered down the lines of reaction and entrenched progressive democracy in every agency of the government

Overdoing a Good Thing

Sunshine and fresh air and exercise are among the most important factors in a hygienic life. But surprising to state they can be overdone

Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that they are usually overdone by people who customarily underdo them

Observe the crowds on a Sunday evening coming home from an afternoon excursion The babies are fretting and crying or sleeping the sleep of the exhausted The mothers are hot and tired and peevish The fathers are irritable and sharp spoken Men women and children are stiff and sore and sunburned and tired and nervously exhausted

The purpose of a week end holiday is rest and recreation Yet many a time and oft the recreational trips turn out to be endurance contests contests to see who can eat the most who can stay in swimming the longest who can walk the farthest and who can outlast the others in the number of sets of tennis holes of golf or innings of baseball

People simply don't seem to know when to quit

If you spend six days in an office or factory or at the business of housekeeping your body is not in condition to withstand an overdose of sunshine and fresh air and exercise You may hate to admit that you're not as young as you used to be You may hate to admit that you are all out of training But it's far better to accept the truth and plan your week end trips accordingly than it is to overdo and make a physical wreck out of yourself

Next time the opportunity offers itself for a short holiday go out with the idea of doing just enough and not too much Lie in the sand for an instead of three hours play five innings of baseball instead of nine go to the showers after nine holes of golf instead of thirty six be content to swim half across the Lake and back instead of clear over and back

You'll notice the difference on Monday morning when you return to your usual sedentary occupation You'll give your boss more work with less strain on yourself

THE SECOND MRS. STRONG

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR
Copyright 1924, by Public Ledger Compan

Matthew Strong marries his stenographer Julie Benton and when he brings her home after the honeymoon his daughter Claudia does everything in her power to make things uncomfortable for her new stepmother

CHAPTER VII
Julie's Mistake

It was Julie's chance to enlist Matthew's aid to tell him the truth to confess to him the way Claudia had spoken to her but she did not take it. She was afraid afraid of incurring Claudia's enmity and also she said to herself Matthew had nothing at all. Matthew had given Julie a lonely and gave way to a feeling of sympathy for her.

A look of impatience dawned in Matthew's eyes. He was suddenly irritated. Hadn't he done everything for this girl everything possible. Hadn't he taken her from a life of loneliness and made her his wife. Why should she be lonely. Why should she have a fit of blues simply because he hadn't been with her all evening?

Even more he thought about it the annoyed he grew. This dependence of Julie's this clinging to him was forcing to what he had expected of her. He had looked to her to be efficient, to assert herself and instead she went about the house silently, meekly. He never could bear a meek woman.

Why didn't she find something interesting to report? he asked some what brusquely. His manner more than his words implied the fact that she could be improving her mind which was afire all entirely uneducated and Julie with the tears pressing hot against her lids turned despairingly away. She realized that by her silence she had widened the breach that was already existing between herself and Matthew. He seemed farther away from her than ever. He would probably never forget that he had taken her from humble surroundings and surrounded her with unaccustomed luxuries he would never forgive her for what was not her fault and yet he had made her his wife and she ought to be grateful for that.

After the reception you won't feel so much alone Matthew added quickly feeling somehow that he had hurt her. You'll meet a great many congenial people then and you can make your own arrangements with I am not with you

Julie nodded and again panic seized her. Didn't he understand what friendship meant? Didn't he realize that they would probably criticize her that this reception would be a test she was afraid to meet?

But haven't told me her anxiety Matthew persisted

Julie's prolonged silence angered him. He did wish she had more fire or passion that she would not look at him with such pleading

I don't think I remember where the child was going Julie stammered

You don't think you remember I don't want Claudia running out every night, and when she does go I want to know where she is

I beg Matthew and I'm very sorry that I don't think you realize how hard it is for me to interfere with Claudia

I do realize it, but it's a job I have handed over to you You are doing it for me

Julie did not answer and in the silence that followed there came the sound of Claudia's key in the latch

She came into the library like a breath of fresh air head held high and apparently unafraid although her heart beat fast when she saw her father She knew that she must carry off the situation with a high hand act as though she had nothing wrong and quickly she sought about in her mind for a convenient lie to explain where she had been

In contrast to Julie she was charming sophisticated well bred and Matthew as he looked at her felt a surge of pride in her beauty. Even before she began to speak Claudia knew that the situation was hers Julie had not pressed her advantage she had been afraid to take her chance

Germans May Ask A Seat In League

GENEVA Aug 19—(A P)—Great Britain's reported intention to propose an increase in the number of seats in the League of Nations council has aroused extraordinary interest in league circles where it is looked upon as doubtless paving the way for Germany's entrance into the league

It is feared however that a move to provide Germany with a permanent seat on the council might displease Brazil and Spain who as holders of non permanent seats would like to be promoted to permanent places Therefore there is some suggestion of giving Germany a non permanent seat at first to avoid friction The league has no been informed if Germany is about to seek membership

HUMOR SEEN IN FRANKS HEARING

Battle Of Wits In Loeb-Leopold Case Monday Ends In Laughter.

Closing Arguments Expected To Start With Session Of Wednesday.

Associated Press

CHICAGO Aug 19—The judicial hearing by which is to be determined the fate of Nathan F Leopold Jr and Richard Loeb confessed murderers of Robert Franks went from the serious to the comic Monday and wound up in laughter

Throughout the morning session Clarence S Darrow chief defense counsel feuded adroitly with Dr H Douglas Singer alienist for the state and tried to obtain from the expert admissions that schizophrenia or split personalities were necessarily subjects of mental disease

In the afternoon Dr William C Krohn last witness for the state and probably for the hearing recited at length the observations and reasons for declaring the defendants mentally sound and then got into a hammer and tongs exchange with Benjamin Bachrach of defense counsel who started his cross examination of the state's ace

Frequently the doctor's replies to the questions about his qualifications as an expert brought laughter from

Once Judge John R Caverly admonished both to refrain from buffoonery Finally Mr Bachrach asked the court to instruct the witness to answer a question relating to the latter's activities at the Kankakee hospital for the insane in the late nineties

Judge Caverly glanced at the clock which was two minutes beyond the adjournment hour and straightened up in his chair and with a twinkle in his eyes announced unexpectedly

We will adjourn now until 10 30 o'clock tomorrow

The day's developments added little to the progress of the case but served to bring it appreciably closer to its end

Mr Darrow said last night that the defense probably would conclude its cross examination of Dr Krohn today and would offer no further testimony Robert Crowe state's attorney announced that unless there were unexpected overnight developments Dr Krohn would be the last witness for the program as carried out closing arguments may be started at the Wednesday session

Better Peach Jam Easily Made in 15 Minutes

Tastes Better — Looks Better — Costs Less and Never Fails

BY ANN PROCTOR

Everybody loves peach jam For a spread on bread or hot biscuits nothing seems to equal it Its wonderful flavor makes children of us all Until now however an expert was required to make it and it has been expensive Certo the natural jell making property of fruit, has solved the problem so that everyone can make and eat a lot of this delicious preserve

To make peach jam by the quick and easy Certo method follow this simple recipe

Peel remove pits and rush well about 3 lbs peaches Measre 4 level cups (2 lbs) crushed fruit into large kettle Add 7½ level cups (3¼ lbs) sugar and mix well Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling Boil hard for 1 minute Remove from fire and stir in one bottle (scant cup) Certo Skim and pour quickly Use same recipe for pear jam

This Certo process banishes all the guess work or worry as perfect results are certain when a simple recipe is followed Unlike the old method pound for pound mixture boiled for thirty or more minutes with considerable juice color and flavor of the fruit being boiled away the economical Certo method requires only one minute's boiling and thereby it saves the juice to make one half more jam That's the only reason why more sugar is used with Certo

Certo is a pure fruit product contains no gelatine or preservative Certo positively saves time fruit flavor and guess work It makes all kinds of jams and jellies—some you have never tasted before Certo is highly endorsed by national authorities and local cooking experts Every woman who tries it recommends it to her friends and says she will never be without it Over seven million bottles were used last year

The above recipe and nearly 100 other Jams Jellies and Marmalades are in the Certo Book of Recipes which is enclosed with every bottle of Certo

Get a bottle of Certo from your grocer right away Start now — the sure quick economical way of making jams and jellies that keep indefinitely You'll never return to the old hit or miss method Make plenty of peach jam this year—no home ever has too much

DAVIS TO START TOUR LABOR DAY

Long Trek Westward Will Begin With Address In His Home State

Candidate Being Urged To Visit Pacific Coast Before Ending Trip

(Associated Press)

LOCUST Valley N Y Aug 19—John W Davis will start his long westward trek with a second address in his home state It will be delivered at Wheeling on labor day at a meeting held under the auspices of the Ohio Valley Trade and Labor assembly

In deciding to expound his views on labor in West Virginia the democratic presidential candidate ran counter to the wishes of some of his political advisers who expressed apprehension that such an early return to his native heath might be viewed as evidence that he regarded the state as a doubtful one

While giving careful weight to the advice thus received Mr Davis decided to accept the invitation extended by President Mahoney of the assembly because he wishes to speak face to face with laboring men from several states and the Wheeling assembly will afford him that opportunity

From Wheeling Mr Davis will strike into the middle west for several speeches before crossing the Mississippi river into the northwest Just how many addresses will be delivered in the west remains to be determined

Mr Davis is being urged to visit the Pacific coast thesee pressing such a course upon him including Isadore B Dockweiler democratic national committeeman from California

Mr Dockweiler declared that he regarded California as a doubtful state and that the democrats of that state and the other coast states were anxious to have Mr Davis make [illegible] speeches in the coast

County Opens Bids On Storage Tanks

Bids were opened Tuesday morning by the county commissioners for three 10 000 gallon gasoline storage tanks to be used by the county for its own gasoline supply and for the proposed county filling station

The bids ranged from $330 for each tank to $500 The low bid was that of the Nebraska Iowa Steel Tank Co of Omaha

All bids were referred to the county engineer for examination to see that the tanks came up to the required specifications

The tanks will be installed in the [illegible] garage tract on West O

Firpo Wins First Round In Court; Deportation Case Goes Over

PASTOR PERSISTS IN WAR ON FIRPO

New York Preacher Bent On Deportation of Fighter To Argentine.

U. S. Commissioner Sides With Pugilist; Case Goes Over to Sept. 20.

FIRPO WINS DECISION

NEW YORK Aug 19 — Luis Firpo, 'Wild Bull of the Pampas won the decision in his first battle in a North American court room today

The South American heavyweight pugilist, through his lawyer Hyman Bushel obtained a postponement of the hearing of perjury charges against Firpo until Sept 20 which is nine days after the date on which Firpo is scheduled to battle Harry Wills negro heavyweight at Boyle s Thirty Acres in New Jersey

Firpo appeared in the court room of United States Commissioner Hitchcock in answer to an affidavit filed by Rev William Sheafe Chase of New York charging Firpo with perjury in connection with his recent entry into the United States and asking a warrant for Firpo's arrest

Commissioner Hitchcock's decision followed a lengthy and sometimes hot argument between Attorney Bushel and Dr Chase The commissioner first set the hearing for tomorrow but Bushel objected asking the hearing be set for Sept 20 on the ground that Firpo s rights would be infringed by setting the date so early

BY JAMES L KILGALLEN

NEW YORK Aug 19—Luis Firpo wearing a worried expression hastened to New York today from his training quarters in Saratoga Springs to fight back at a charge of perjury and a movement to deport him

The famous fighter from South America will step into court before United States Commissioner Hitchock today Firpos lawyer Hyman Bushel announced

Firpo apprised that Rev William Sheafe Chase president of the New York Civic league had obtained a warrant for his arrest charging perjury in gaining admittance to the United States on July 21 took the first train for New York to answer the charges

A dark eyed buxom girl of Spanish origin is the cause of Firpos trouble on the eve of his million dollar fight with Harry Wills the negro heavyweight challenger of Jack Dempsey She is Senorita Blanca Lourdes who was deported following her arrival in this country on the same ship with the Firpo party

Woman In Case Deported

The Rev Dr Chase wants to know Why was Firpo allowed to enter while Senorita Lourdes was kept out 'Should there be he asks a double standard in connection with our immigration laws that deports the woman and lets the man in

Canon Chase said the charge of perjury he has preferred against Firpo was based on the fighter s 'mis statements to the immigration authorities that the woman was only a casual acquaintance He declared he would prove that Firpo and the girl were friends of long standing and that she was in America a year ago—when Firpo fought Dempsey

Firpos lawyer Bushel characterized the action of Rev Chase as a 'publicity stunt

Pastor s Name In Papers

Commissioner of Immigration Curran took the effort of Canon Chase rather lightly too asserting the pastor has his name in the newspapers again '

'How does he know Firpo committed perjury on Ellis Island? asked Curran

Firpo a defiant expression on his stern countenance rang the doorbell of his lawyer s home shortly after 9 o clock this morning. He was accompanied by his South American friend Juan Holmes

Asked concerning Rev Chase s charge Firpo glowered rubbed his hand through his tousled hair crossed his arms and talked rapidly in Spanish As interpreted by Holmes Firpo said

I am absolutely innocent I did not commit perjury I told the authorities all I knew I am getting a raw deal

Lawyer Charges Frame Up

Firpo Bushel and Holmes went immediately to the lawyers office after which they went to go to Commissioner Hitchcocks office

We are glad this came up Bushel said It gives us a chance to show that the whole thing is a frame up

Firpo is the victim of a frame up Bushel declared to Commissioner Hitchcock It even looks like this may be attempted blackmail

Canon Chase made this affidavit without having seen the records in the deportation hearing at Ellis Island If he has permitted perjury in a citizen will demand his arrest

How does Chase know what Firpo said at the immigration hearing? Bushel demanded

Information From Washington

Canon Chase replied

I received this information in a letter from the assistant secretary of labor in Washington in reply to my telegram to him

The commissioner said he believed it would be possible to give Firpo a chance to join in the defense and therefore he would set the case for Sept 20

The proceedings Attorney Bushel did not know what was transpiring in the court room. When the decision was announced its decision Firpos friends started to applaud and the first smile broke on Firpos face

Boosters Meet Wednesday

Monte Munn chairman of the special committee for the Chamber of Commerce in charge of the baseball booster day project today issued a call for a session of the sub committees The special session is scheduled for Wednesday evening at 7 30 at the Lindell hotel In promulgating the call for the meeting Chairman Munn issued a general invitation to all boosters for baseball in Lincoln to be present at the Wednesday evening session

Chairman Munn today was checking up on the various sub committees that any of the committees have not been active new sub committees will be named at the Wednesday meeting

Latest information in the hands of Chairman Munn is to the effect that Judge Kenesaw M Landis high commissioner of baseball will arrive early Friday afternoon from Grand Island in time to participate in the booster festivities at Landis Field A special committee will greet Judge Landis at the Burlington station escorting him to the local ball park A special box at the park will be reserved for the high commissioner Governor Bryan Mayor Zehnung and other public officials will be invited to view the Omaha Lincoln booster day doubleheader from Judge Landis box

Baseball fans in towns adjacent to the state capital city keenly interested in the success of Western league baseball in Lincoln are planning to attend the booster day doubleheader Secretary Moon of the Links announced today that he was in receipt of information that delegations are coming from Sutton Crete Seward Milford Garland Beatrice Syracuse, Eagle and other towns within a radius of fifty miles Omaha home of the league-leading Butch Rods also will be represented by a delegation of fans

Park Improvement Plan

Larry Arnold boss of the Links writes from Los Angeles that he is planning to head into Lincoln before the termination of the pennant campaign to give his final decision on plans mapped out by Team Manager Josh Clarke involving improvements at Landis Field Manager Josh advocates enlargement of the playing field and the stands the fence to be moved back fifty feet and the grandstand to be altered so as to add a complete ring of box seats with an extension on the east wing of the stand Other alterations under consideration would place the exits and entrances at the top of the stands Cost of the improvements proposed by Manager Clarke has been estimated at $5 000

Success of the booster day project would go far toward convincing Magnate Arnold that Lincoln is worthy of an improved park plant—of a park in keeping with the first division team which the boss and the manage of the Links are intenon having next year

Didn t Borrow His Stuff

Des Moines Register When Bill (Letty) Bayne pitched Tulsa to an 11 to 2 victory in the second game of Sunday s doubleheader he turned the trick with the help of Art Stokes shoes and Gormer Wilson s glove Bayne s shoes and gloves were locked in the visitors clubhouse in New York when he left the St. Louis Browns to join Tulsa and had not arrived here

Pitching Worries Huggins

Miller Huggins stands with his back to the wall

Unless he can get better pitching in the remaining weeks of the American league race he may face the unpleasant situation of seeing the Detroit Tigers beat him in the fight for the 1924 pennant

Huggins has more than the usual motive for winning this year He wants to make it four straight pennants McGraw rival of the Yanks In the world series for the past three seasons seems destined to make it four straight Huggins personal pride as well as his desire to carry his Yanks to the same heights the Giants reach is urging him on But his pitching staff is shot

The big five of last year—Bush Shawkey Pennock Jones and Hoyt —failed to hit the same consistent stride this season Last year at least four of them were going at top speed all the time This season Pennock had been about the only consistent winner until the last few weeks Then Waite Hoyt found himself Those two cannot carry the burden however

Huggins showed that he is aware the situation is serious when he grabbed Al Mamaux veteran big leaguer from Rochester and then Ray Francis from Toronto Francis had been tried and found wanting by Washington and the Tigers earlier this season

Whether or not either one of these men can deliver remains to be seen They are the best Huggins could find at this date Untried youngsters will do him no good What he has tried to land is a pitcher or two who can deliver immediately

If the Yanks do come through Mamaux or Francis may draw a lions share of the credit If the team loses out the Big Five will draw the blame

Youth Fights for Honors

The race for hurling honors in both major circuits now is a 50 50 proposition between youth and age

Through many of the seasons gone the veterans monopolized the high places in the hurling realms with almost monotonous regularity But this is a year radically different

In the American league the fight is among Holloway (Tigers) Wingard (Browns) and Wells (Tigers) representing youth— and Pennock (Yankees) Danforth (Browns) and Johnson (Senators) of the old old brigade

Vde (Pirates) Bentley (Giants) and Kremer (Pirates) are the outstanding of the younger twirlers in the National league with Vance (Dodgers) Alexander (Cubs) and Grimes (Dodgers) pressing them closely for the top honors in the National league of 1924

Baseball s Champion Fan

The champion fan of baseballing America is James H Pennimans of Philadelphia He is 63 has seen over 5 000 games—and never attended a single one without being accompanied by some sort of booze which he reads between innings

Pennimann is a Yale graduate His roommate was Jack Jones After graduation Jones got a job playing with the Philadelphia Athletics of 40 years ago

I went to the games in those days to see Jack play relates Pennimann It became a habit. I haven t recovered from it in all the years since I guess I ve seen almost every game played in Philadelphia in the last 30 years

Pitchers In Spotlight

In the important games which are now shaping the end of the major league baseball season pitchers are playing the hero roles usually seized by the sluggers

The Yankees as veteran Joe Bush held Chicago to four hits bunched four of five safeties off Robertson and Connally for a 2 to 0 victory that gave them a two and one half game lead over Detroit which lost to Washington 6 to 3 and dropped to within one half contest of the Senators

Sheehan Wins From Giants

Tom Sheehan and Burleigh Grimes corralled major honors in losses suffered by the Giants and Pirates New York in the longest game played in the majors this year lost to the Reds in seventeen innings 8 to 7

Grimes checked the Pirate sluggers and Brooklyn won 7 to 4

Vic Aldridge held Boston safe while the Cubs pounded Yeargin for a 6 to 1 win Covelskie coasted in with a 10 to 3 decision over the Athletic pitchers who yielded sixteen hits to Cleveland

Wingard held the Red Sox to four hits in eight innings but was overcome in the ninth by an avalanche of swats that earned a 3 to 2 victory for Boston

A home run by Ty Williams with two men on paved the way for the 5 to 4 Philadelphia win over the Cardinals

DES MOINES Ia Aug 19—Southpaw slants of Ed Shupe former Tri-State league pitcher for Grand Island, were a puzzle to the Links yesterday and the visitors were shut out 5 to 0 in the first game of the series Bert Bugs Grover pitched steadily and effectively in every inning with the sole exception of the sixth when the Boosters bunched five hits with an error and a scarifice crossing the plate for a cluster of five runs

The Links filled the bases in two innings with none out, but the Boosters headed off runs by backing Shupe with double plays Although the visitors were charged with three errors Grover had the help of snappy fielding the Lincoln pitcher getting out of tight holes with the aid of two double plays

Manager Clarke of the Links again scrambled his lineup Gunther sent back to the Los Angeles club was superseded in left field by Purdy while Snyder played the third sack and Lazzeri performed at second The score

Schober Coming For Mat Clash With A. Krieger

While plans of the local American Legion post for an Ace Hudkins Lou Daro battle tentatively slated for Thursday night of state fair week are up in the air Matchmaker Charley Dake acting for the Legionnaires declared today that the Labor day wrestling program in which Adam Krieger of Lincoln will tangle with Billy Schober of St Louis is a sure shot

Efforts of the Legion matchmaker to induce Ralph Paracut Iowa middleweight to meet Krieger failed to materialize Paracut made financial demands which the Legionnaires declined to approve Wires to Schober were more successful and the St Louis grappler has been definitely booked to tangle with Krieger in a finish bout slated for Monday night September 1 at the City auditorium

Krieger and Schober tusseled in a three hour draw in St Louis last spring Neither was able to capture a fall Schober claims to have flattened Parcaut during the early period of the latters career and to have won a clean-cut victory over Billy Myers former world s champion of the middles

Krieger and Schober stand about even from the standpoint of poundage and Matchmaker Dake figures he has arranged a main event match which will give the mat sport a bumper inaugural in Lincoln

Walker and Cruikshank Booked to Show Their Skill On Eastridge Course.

Clash Wednesday In Special 18-Hole Match With Lincoln "Pros."

BY GREGG MBRIDE

Golfers of Lincoln and vicinity will have an opportunity Wednesday afternoon to feast their optics on the real thing in golf com—C I I Walker present national open champion and Bobby Cruikshank one of the nation s leading golfers

Walker and Cruikshank will play Norman Sommers and Charles Koontz Lincoln professionals in an exhibition eighteen hole match over the Eastridge club course The four some is scheduled to get under way at 2 p m

The easterners are touring the middlewest playing in several open tournaments and participating in a string of exhibition matches Sunday Walker and Cruikshank defeated Jock Hutchinson former British open champion and Bill Melhorn well known St Louis golfer at Colorado Springs in a 36 hole best ball match 5 and 4

Cruikshank Won at Denver

Cruikshank comes to Lincoln fresh from his victory at Denver where he won the Colorado open championship taking a 297 for the 72 holes which was five strokes better than the card turned in by Jock Hutchinson Chicago pro who was runner-up He came from behind in the last eighteen holes to win the title being three down to Creavy of Oklahoma City when they started the final trip around the circuit Cruikshank turned in a 33 39—72 while Creavy went to pieces and yielded first honors to Cruikshank and second laurels to Hutchinson The Colorado title carried with it a purse of $1 000

Of the Cruikshank Walker combination the former is perhaps the better showman Cruikshank s list of titles and honors achieved on the links attest to his ability

Native of Scotland

The Scotchman first saw the light of day at Grantown on Spey in 1894 His first bid for attention because of his skill on the links was in 1919 when he won the Edinburgh Coronation trophy He repeated his victory in 1920 and in addition was runner up in the St Andrews Edinburgh tourney

He decided to turn professional and journey to America in 1921 and in March of that year he crossed the big pond to set foot on Yankee soil

He tied for the American open championship in 1923 but lost to Bobby Jones in the playoff In 1921 he won the New York State open championship and won the St Joseph open the same year competing against a field which included Jim Barnes and Jock Hutchinson The first prize for the St Joseph tourney was a thousand smacks with a side purse of one hundred iron men for the best single round which also went into the Scotchman s jean

Sets Course Records

He tied for second place in the western open at Chicago in 1923 He holds course records for the Essex Country club course number one and two which he shot in 67 and 68 His record of 69 for the St Joseph County club course still holds good

His favorite shot is a mashie niblic which he uses effectively

Cruikshank is also a member of the Hole in one club He is credited with having made the fourth hole on the Turnhouse course and the first hole on the Essex course with one stroke

Cyril Walker s rise to golf renown has been meteoric He was born at Hoylake Eng thirty three years ago and has been in the United States ten years

Walker Wins Open Title

His crowning achievement was winning the 1924 national open tournament which was played over the Oakland Hills course at Detroit His total of 297 for the 72 holes weathered the storm of competition which include the elite of American golfers Cruikshank finished in a triple tie for third place with Macdonald Smith of San Francisco and Walter Hagen Bobby Jones was he runner up to Walker

The national open champion spent the beam at only 120 pounds but is said to possess extraordinary driving power getting good yardage in all his shots

MARKET WEEK IN OMAHA PLANNED

Will Be Largest all Display For Merchants Ever Held There. Wholesale and Manufacturing Firms Prepare For Retailers.

The fall market week in Omaha, August 25 to 30, will be the largest market event ever staged in Omaha according to word already received from hundreds of merchants in this section. Changing conditions in the agricultural districts due to the good crops and the higher prices of all farm products have created a new interest. Most merchants' stocks are low and with an enlarged demand for merchandise assured for fall, they are coming to the market in greater numbers than ever before.

All Omaha wholesale and manufacturing concerns are prepared for the big semi-annual influx of retailers. Stocks of goods are unusually complete, buyers are present to discuss style tendencies, and the market outlook, and extra salesmen are on hand to give the merchants every assistance in their fall buying.

The daytime is devoted entirely to these displays, but as usual the market week committee has prepared an elaborate series of entertainments. On Monday night, August 25, the visiting merchants will be taken to the den of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben for the big show which is proving a record attraction this year. The families will be entertained at one of the theatres. Tuesday night all visitors will be taken to Krug park, a big amusement park with one of the finest bathing pools in the west, besides all of the other attractions, which will be turned over to the retailers. Wednesday the entertainment is staged at the new Elks building, one of the finest Elks' structures in the country. It will open with an organ recital, followed by an address on mercantile questions, then a round table discussion and finally a dance.

Thursday night there will be a box lunch on the beach of Carter lake, followed by aquatic sports, moving pictures, a gift distribution of more than $1,000 worth of prizes, and finally a dance.

Special railroad rates have been granted on the certificate plan. Merchants may buy a one way ticket, get a certificate, and have this validated at the Omaha chamber of commerce.

MAY CHANGE NAMES.

RIGA, Aug. 19.—A recent decree of the central soviet authorities grants every Russian citizen over 18 years the right to change his family name and his first name as often as he pleases, with full legal validity, simply by notifying the registrar of the registrar of the community.

LONDON—Prime Minister Macdonald of Great Britain, Monday sent letters to Premier Herriot of France, and Premier Theunis of Belgium, urging that France and Belgium take every possible step to evacuate the Ruhr in less time than one year period agreed upon at the International conference.

DRYS TO FIGHT ON OWN MERITS

Prohibit Nominee Says Demerits Of Other Parties Not To Be Stressed.

(Associated Press.)

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 9.—The prohibition party will wage its campaign on the merits of the party and not on the demerits of other parties, H. P. Faris, prohibition party nominee for president, declared in an address here Monday.

After reviewing the accomplishments of the party, Mr. Faris declared:

"For fifty years and more, our party has been electing the issues while other parties have been electing the officers and enjoying the emoluments and salaries.

"Many unthinking people," said Mr. Faris, "have regarded us as a party of 'one idea.' Instead, we have been the one party which has discovered, declared and fought for every reform measure brought to fruition in our national legislature for the past fifty years."

Mrs. Mors Left Husband a Fortune; Jewelry Is Stolen

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, who died here last Tuesday night with a bullet in her brain, and in connection with whose death Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, is being held on suspicion of murder, left an estate of $125,000 and $80,000 in life insurance to her husband, Albert A. Mors, it was revealed here Monday by Mors' lawyers and the district attorney's office.

Another development was the announcement by Mors' attorneys that $5,000 worth of jewelry, composed of a black pearl, a brooch and a diamond and sapphire studded watch had been stolen from Mrs. Mors the night she died.

They demanded that the district attorney investigate the disappearance of the jewels.

The Value of Charcoal

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty and Yet It Is Not a Drug.

Pure willow charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature.

And the more you take of it the better. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the injurious gases and impurities always present in the intestines and stomach and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens ahe breath after smoking or eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, whitens the teeth, disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best and most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; composed of the finest quality Willow charcoal powdered to extreme fineness. Compressed in form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, sweetened to be smooth and palatable.

Many physicians advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion nd purify the breath, mouth and throat. They are also believed to greatly benefit the liver. These lozenges cost but thirty cents a box at drug stores. For a free trial send your name and address to F A. Stuart Co., 12 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich. You get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets. —Advertisement.

Relieve Your Asthma In Fifteen Minutes

If Asthmador does not instantly relieve the very worst attacks of Bronchial Asthma, difficult breathing, and the Asthmatic symptoms accompanying Hay Fever your money will be returned, is the terms upon which all druggists are selling Asthmador and Asthmador Cigarettes. No matter how inveterate or obstinate your case, or how often or violent the atta ks, Asthmador will instantly relieve you, usually in ten seconds, but always within fifteen minutes.

Druggists throughout the U. S. have been authorized to sell Asthmador on a guarantee to return the money in every single case where it does not give instantaneous relief, or is not found the very best remedy ver used. You will be the sole judge yourself, and under this positive guarantee your own druggist can be depended upon refunding your money if not benefited. Also sent on same guarantee, per parcel post, C. Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells,—and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S. S. S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S. S. S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK Aug 19

Today's stock market was dull and irregular with trading on a small scale Bull operations were confined to a few issues and the market as a whole showed little response to the buying power that sent prices soaring to new high records last week Sales approximated 1 000 000 shares

Reaction on profit taking was accentuated by further unfavorable reports on the crop situation Texas Gulf Sulphur Nash Motors Goodyear Tire and Rubber Investment Trusts and Public Utilities were unattracted by the day's offerings Some of the coppers yielded fractions but the rest of the list was firm

A seven point break in Davison Chemical probably resulting from the calling of stop loss orders caused some uneasiness at the end of the first hour Investment demand was taking place in several steels Equipments motors and rails Trading was brisk Sales exceeding 2 000 000 shares in the first hour call money again opened at per cent

The market has not established its own independent character to absorb profit taking but until more aggressive operators were attracted to the list the trading was professional in character

The closing was irregular

FARMERS PERISH IN IOWA FLOODS

Overflow Near Cedar Rapids Monday Reported to Be Worst of Summer.

(Associated Press)

CEDAR RAPIDS Ia Aug 19—The bodies of J N Schley and Claude Barrett farmers who were drowned in Big Creek near Bertram la last night while trying to save their cattle were found at 2 a m today several miles from the scene of the drowning

A telephone message from Bertram today says the storm caused heavy damage there

The Northwestern bridge between [illegible] Northwestern trains were standing at the station here this morning

City agents and farm experts said this storm was the most destructive this summer

Choked sewers caused one section of Cedar Rapids to be under from four to ten feet of water Canoes were used by motorists who had cars parked in the flooded area

All street car traffic in several sections of Cedar Rapids was tied up because of the storm

Reports reaching here indicate that the storm caused great damage to crops Telephone and telegraph wires were swept away

Information received here from the storm area indicated that the damage to crops was severe In a number of cases whole fields were submerged some to a depth of several feet Rivers in the eastern part of the state were reported to have risen four feet in so meceases since midnight

Between five and seven inches of rain fell in the Reinbeck Ia territory and 9 23 inches fell at Iowa Falls last night according to the state weather bureau These were the heaviest rainfalls recorded

Refuse To Change Shipping Rules

Refusal to order railroad shipping rules changed so that cement lime plaster brick and sand might be shipped in mixed carloads with lumber taking the minimum carload weight of 34 000 provided for lumber instead of the 50 000 minimum for cement is the action taken by the state railway commission in dismissing a complaint brought by George W Plitner and the Farmers Lumber Co of Omaha

The complaint was based on a somewhat similar regulation in Kansas which the carriers there put into effect under protest when ordered by the state public utilities commission to do so

The railroads resisted the Omaha firms request on the ground that it would mean giving less than carload shipments of cement lower rates than the existing tariffs provide on carload shipments of that comodity with the 50 000 minimum weight proviso

In its findings the commission holds that such would be the effect and that this would disarrange the reduced carload cement rates which were promulgated a year ago

LA FOLLETTE MEN MAY FORM A NEW PARTY

gathered today for a mass convention according to A H Bigelow Omaha attorney and a member of the meetings arrangements committee

Creation of a new political party was believed the easier way to insure the naming of presidential electors to serve La Follette in case he carries the state in the November election Mr Bigelow said pointing out that while candidates can be nominated in Nebraska merely by filing petitions with the secretary of state still the latter method does not appear to provide any specific means of selecting electors

M F Harrington, O'Neill attorney who is scheduled to act as temporary chairman said he would not ask the delegates to nominate Senator George W Norris republican though he previously had declared he would take such a step His announcement that he would not propose Norris followed a conference with Frank Harrison of Lincoln, regional manager for Senator La Follette

Opposes State Ticket

Declaring such a move would do neither Senator Norris nor Senator La Follette, any good Frank Harrison of Lincoln regional manager for Mr La Follette said he was opposed to it adding that "Senator Norris himself would not desire it Mr Harrison stated that he was just as devoted to Senator Norris as Mr Harrington but that it was the general policy of the La Follette national committee to keep Mr La Follette's candidacy free of all congressional state and local tickets

The convention was not scheduled to start until 1 o'clock this afternoon Mr Harrington was to turn the gavel over to Judge H M Sullivan of Broken Bow as permanent chairman if the suggestion of the arrangement committees carried out Under the law 500 voters must attend before a new party can be created and a name must be adopted

Mr Harrison said he regarded these steps as mere formalities in order to technically comply with the law in promotion of the candidacy of Senator La Follette rather than the birth of a new political party under the ordinary meaning of the word The next formality would be the filing with the secretary of state of an agreement signed by 500 voters to support the new organization's nominees along with an affidavit from one voter that he believes the 500 are qualified electors

Fight On Floor Looms

Developments that preceeded the convention included the resignation of J L Beebe of Omaha from his position as chairman of the progressive party of Nebraska who said an effort to remove candidates of the major parties from the party's ticket in order to present a 'clean slate to La Follette had apparently been in vain and that he believed the interests of the Wisconsin senator could best be served by committing the progressive party's remains to the dust

W J Taylor of Merna a former legislator announced he was in favor of a state ticket and that he would make a fight on the floor of the convention if necessary in favor of nominating state and congressional candidates Mr Taylor while declaring he was for La Follette stated that his position was an 'attack on La Follette policy He added that La Follette was asking us to elect him president' but not to nominate state tickets and that he considered this attitude as a vulnerable one

Announcement was made this morning by George B Wylie of Lincoln secretary of the legislative committee and also of the Legislative board of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen that a conference of those in charge last night had been confined to agreements on procedure one of which was that he should call the meeting to order

Need 500 Delegates

He said he expected the 500 delegates necessary to form a new party would be on hand and predicted that the La Follette movement in Nebraska would be a success but that a 'manufactured row in the convention would not help matters any

No state platform is to be adopted according to Temporary Chairman Harrington

The delegates were arriving slowly with the majority of them expected to arrive by automobile shortly before the convention is called to order Among those on the scene was Secretary Green of the progressives who announced that his state committee would elect some time today a chairman to succeed Mr Bee T M Harrington was mentioned by Paul of Harvard as a successor for Mr Beebe

The La Follette Independent party will be suggested to the convention as the name for the new organization, it was agreed at a conference of the arrangements committee

DAWES READY FOR WORD OF HIS NOMINATION

a parade of the old fashioned type designed to give the whole affair something of the flavor of a big political rally

Officials of the republican national committee working with Evanston citizens in arranging for the ceremonies expect upwards of a hundred thousand people to gather about the Dawes home and along the nearby lake front should the weather be favorable Voice amplifying apparatus has been installed to insure that all may hear

Delegations from nearly a hundred Chicago organizations some political some civic some labor some business and some representative of the nominees native state of Ohio have reserved space near the speakers stand An almost equal number is expected from the other middlewest cities and towns

William M Butler chairman of the republican national committee, will preside at the ceremonies The invocation will be offered by one of Mr Dawes' neighbors, the Rev John Thompson pastor of the First Methodist church of Chicago and the benediction will be pronounced by the Rev Hugh Patrick Smyth pastor of St Mary's Catholic church of Evanston The notification address will be made by former Representative A W Jefferis of Nebraska who placed Mr Dawes' name before the Cleveland convention He was selected to take the plac of Theodore M Burton temporary chairman of the Cleveland convention who now is abroad

Mr Dawes address will immediately follow that made by Mr Jefferis and after the benediction the ceremonies will end

ARGUMENTS IN FRANKS HEARING CLOSE AT HAND

last witness in the judicial hearing which is to determine the punishment of Nathan F Leopold jr and Richard Loeb for the kidnaping and murdering of Robert Franks

Dr Krohn found occasion to dig the defense alienists' theories explaining that he had given no formal opinion on the mentalities of the defendants since June 1 and that newspaper interviews quoting him on what had resulted fro mhis attempts to explain exaggerated claims made by the defense

You mean that you told the reporters these exaggerations were offered by the defense did you not? asked Mr Bachrach

Not entirely Any way I tried to explain them for the boys' was the answer

Ask him if he could explain 'hem' suggested Clarence S Darrow to Mr Bachrach

Could you explain them the witness was asked

The doctor flushed a bit at the implication but smiled and answered negatively

Arguments to Start

The program for today called for the start of arguments as soon as the cross examination was finished Mr Darrow announced he would ask permission of the court to have the defense make no opening and losing argument on the theory that the burden of proof or mitigation is on the defense

The skies were so thickly overcast that all lights were turned on in the courtroom and the scene resembled a night session when Dr Krohn resumed the stand for further cross examination

Mr Darrow chief counsel for the defense was ready to take his place at Mr Bachrach's shoulder where yesterday he whispered coaching advice to his associate

Thomas Marshal legal expert for Robert E Crowe state's attorney was in court ready to start the closing argument for the prosecution as soon as Dr Krohn's cross examination was finished He said he would occupy no more than this afternoon in his task

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

Children born under this sign must be very carefully guarded while in the process of growing up and developing. Especially must they be taught self-control in all matters and sex functions. Without a strong mind and a proper education these children are very apt to partake of practices vile and evils which lead to paralysis, consumption and insanity.

Those born between the 15th and 21st of August are under the influence of the sun and the planet Mercury. The sun, the center of our solar system, is the source of light and heat. Mercury is the smallest planet in the solar system, and is the nearest to the sun. Mercury is a planet of extremes, and those born under its influence should learn to be moderate in all things.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Girl Was Neglected.

Dear Minerva: I am the youngest of three children, the other two being boys who were educated very well, both in music and books. My father gave them everything they asked for, but I had to stay at home and care for my mother, who was surely a lady in every way. But she was an invalid for eighteen years so I didn't receive any education to speak of at all. I haven't even completed the eighth grade. My father died two years ago and didn't leave one thing to me and since that time I have been doing housework for private families.

But Minerva I don't like it at all. I do so hate to think of doing this for the rest of my life. I have always wanted so badly to make good at something and Minerva my folks were educated and you know how badly I must feel. I have lots lots of friends, real good friends and anyone I've worked for really brags on me for my refinement, also for my good looks and housekeeping. And people seen so surprised at my doing domestic work. But Minerva what else is there for me to do. I noticed where you advised a girl who was a working girl like myself to qualify to work in a tea room. That appealed to me. You said they paid good wages. Would you please tell me what qualifications would be necessary, where I should go and is there much of a demand for such help. Or would you have any other suggestions to make. Respectfully,—B. B.

A. What a shame, for parents to favor the boys of a family and neglect the girl. I cannot understand how they could do it.

To make the best of your capabilities and present opportunities without worrying over what you missed is your mode of procedure, however. It is something to be proud of that you do the work set out for you well and receive praises for this

I think you must have misunderstood me about the tea room. There would be no particular gain in getting a job in a tea room, that is just a job. If you could secure the managership of a tea room, that would be worth while. Or if you could go into partnership with some other business woman and start a tea room in some promising place, that would be a goal well worth working for.

In many parts of the country, young women have made considerable fortunes through establishing tea rooms which became popular. Usually a girl who has business ability and one who knows the domestic science end of the game combine in such a partnership. Your experience would doubtless qualify you for managing the kitchen end of the business, planning the meals, supervising the work, etc. While you could secure someone else to keep the books, greet the customers, etc.

If you are seriously interested in working toward such a goal, it would be well for you to work for a while in a tea room in order to get ideas about the management of such a place.

The Church and the World.
(Requested.)

The Church and the World walked far apart
On the changing shores of time;
The World an singing a giddy song,
And the Church a hymn sublime
"Come, give me your hand," said the merry World,
"And walk with me this way,"
But the good Church hid her snowy hands,
And solemnly answered, "Nay.
I'll not give you my hand at all,
And I will not walk with you;
Your way is the way that leads to death,
To my Lord I must be true."

"Nay, walk with me but a little space,"
Said the World with a kindly air
"The road I walk is a pleasant road,
And the sun shines always there.
Your path is thorny and rough and rude,
But mine is paved with flowers and dews,
And your with tears and pain.
The sky to me is always blue,
No want, no toil I know,
The sky above you is always dark,
Your lot is a lot of woe.
The way you walk is a narrow way,
But mine is amply wide,
There's room enough for you and me
To travel side by side."

Half shyly the Church approached the World
And gave him her hand of snow,
And the World clasped it and walked along,
Saying in accents low
"Your dress is too simple to please my taste.
I will give your pearls to wear,
Rich velvets and silks to clothes your form,
And diamonds to deck your hair."

Then Church looked down at her pure white robes,
And then at the dazzling World,
And blushed as she saw his handsome lip
With a smile contemptuous curled
"I will change my dress for a costlier one,"
said the Church, with a smile of grace;
Then her pure white garments drifted away,
And the World gave in their place
Beautiful satins and shining silks,
Laces and gems and pearls,
While over her forehead the bright hair fell
Crimped in a thousand curls
"Your house is too plain," said the proud old World
"I'll build you one like mine
Carpets of brussels, and curtains of lace,
And furniture ever so fine."
So he built her a costly and beautiful home
Most splendid was it to behold,
Her sons and her beautiful daughters dwelt there,
Gleaming in purple an gold
Rich shows and faire in the halls were held,
And the World and his children were there;
Laughter and music and feasting were heard
In the place that was meant for prayer.
There were cushioned pews for the rich and gay
To sit in their pomp and pride,
While the poor who were clad in shabby array,
Buy seldom came inside

"You give too much to the poor," said the World,
For more than you ought to do,
If they are in need of shelter and feed,
Why need it trouble you?
Go take your money, and buy rich robes,
Buy horses and carriages fine,
Buy pearls and jewels and dainty food,
Buy the rarest and costliest wine
My children dote on all these things,
And if you their love would win
You must do as they do and walk in the ways
That we are walking in"

Then the Church held fast the strings of her purse,
And modestly lowered her head;
And she murmured, "No doubt you are right, good sir
Henceforth I will do as you said"
The sons of the World and the sons of the Church
Walked closely hand and heart,
And only the Master who knoweth all,
Could tell the two apart

Then the Church sat down at her ease and said,
"I am rich and my goods are increased,
I have need of nothing, or naught to do
But to lounge and dress and feast
The sly World heard, and laughed in his sleeve
And mocking, said aside
"The Church is fallen the beautiful Church,
And her shame is her boast and pride"

The angel drew near to the mercy seat,
And whispered in sighs her name;
Then the loud anthems of rapture were hushed,
And heads were covered in shame
And a voice was heard at last by the Church,
From Him who sat on the throne,
"I know thy works, and how thou hast said
'I am rich,' and hast not known
That thou art naked and poor and blind
And wretched before my face
Therefore from my presence I cast thee out,
And blot thy name from its place"

WORLD FLIGHT DELAYED AGAIN

U. S. Airmen's Planes Damaged In Take-off Monday at Reykjavik.

(Associated Press.)

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 19.—Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. Erik Nelson suffered another setback in their world flight Monday when they attempted to start their long-deferred hop from Reykjavik to Greenland. Both their planes were so badly damaged as to necessitate at least 3 more days' delay.

Carrying heavy loads of fuel, as it was the intention to fly more than 800 miles across the ice infested north Atlantic to Frederickssal, the machines refused to leave the water. Repeated efforts were made to rise and the strain caused the breaking of the spreader bar of Lieutenant Smith's plane, while the propeller of Lieutenant Nelson's plane was shattered.

Already chafing under their forced stay at Reykjavik, this misfortune came as a heavy blow to the aviators, but, accustomed to the uncertainty of flying, they soon became [illegible] and are now anxiously awaiting the arrival of the cruiser Richmond, which is hurrying here with spare parts for the planes.

Why Do You Wash Your Hair

Washing hair nowadays is more than a matter of cleanliness for women who want to retain their loveliness and know that correct shampooing brings out their hair's full beauty and keeps it healthy. It is important to know the correct method. Here is a way that invariably brings gratifying results:

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be easily made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. The hair leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure. Advertisement

CATTLE AT STATE FAIR TO BE BEST

Beef Department of Livestock Show Is Stressed By Management.

Beef cattle of the finest type and conformation will be exhibited in number in the big livestock show at the Nebraska State Fair, August 31 to September 5.

The beef cattle exhibit of this year's livestock show is being stressed by the management. Every effort will be made to make it the biggest and best in the fair's history. Entries close August 12. Plans for the show are well under way, and Superintendent Con McCarthy, has had many requests for information about premiums and classifications.

All of the leading breeds of beef cattle will be shown. Premiums are being offered for Herefords, Galloways, Shorthorns, Red Poll and Aberdeen Angus. In addition to the money prizes the customary ribbons will be awarded. A liberal classification for animals of all ages and both sexes has been adopted. The names of judges and time for judging will be announced later.

There are many reasons why the raising of pure bred beef cattle should be encouraged, says the fair management. Cattle raising enables much of the crops to be fed on the farm, and builds up the fertility of the soil by permitting the return of manure to the land. Cattle-feeding makes the rotation system of farming necessary, which does away with the evils of the "single crops" system.

Macdonald Is Still Barred From Club

ELGIN, Scotland, Aug. 19.—Premier Ramsay Macdonald is still being denied the use of the Moray golf club here from which he was expelled in 1916 on account of his attitude toward the war with Germany.

A motion to rescind the expulsion was actually carried at a meeting of the committee by 55 votes to 47, but as the rules of the club require a two-thirds majority, the original decision stands.

Do Your Children's Clothes Soil Quickly?

THERE is a new starch discovery that will keep your children's dainty wash clothes looking like new.

Just ask your grocer for Linit—the new and different starch which makes even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like linen.

Because Linit eliminates lint, your children's clothes will stay clean much longer.

Linit is nothing like old-fashioned starches. It never clots or smears on the surface of fabrics. To the contrary, the Linit mixture is thin and free-running like water and penetrates each thread of the material—strengthens the fabric and makes it wear longer.

You will find Linit to be the economical starch. A little goes much farther than a similar amount of old-fashioned starches.

LINIT costs 10c at all Grocers. Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. You will never go back to the old-fashioned starching.
